

The Silence of Sex Advisory Board

pinch me films, inc.

TEEN SEXUALITY

Dr. Lynn Ponton is a San Francisco psychoanalyst and renowned adolescent psychologist who has spent more than 20 years talking directly to teens about their school, family and sex lives. Lynn Ponton, MD, is a professor of child and adolescent psychiatry at UCSF and author of "The Romance of Risk: Why Teenagers Do the Things They Do" and "The Sex Lives of Teenagers: Revealing the Secret World of Adolescent Boys and Girls." She is also the mother of two teenage girls.

Barbara Huberman is an expert consultant on adolescent pregnancy prevention and sexual education and has been working in the field for over 30 years. She is currently the National Director of Education and Outreach Education for Advocates for Youth based in Washington, D.C. In 1996, she was chosen to be a founding board member of the National Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy and was the first Chair of the National Task Force on State and Local Action (1996-1998). Barbara was the founder of "Let's Talk Month", a public education campaign each October to help parents talk to their kids about sex and "Teen Pregnancy Prevention Month" in May. Barbara has recently completed a curriculum for the workplace on sexuality and parent-child communication.

Estelle Raboni is a graduate of Columbia University and the Manager of Education and Special Projects of Planned Parenthood Federation of America (PPFA). She is the co-creator and writer of "Sex Matters: Teaching Healthy Sexuality," an interactive multimedia game for teens and sexuality educators on the Planned Parenthood website for teens, www.teenwire.com. She is also the Editor-in-Chief of the national, award-winning publication for sexuality educators and trainers, Educator's Update, and creator and editor of the electronic news service, What's New in Sexuality Education?

Suzanne Witzenburg is Director of Education and Outreach for Planned Parenthood Hudson Peconic (PPHP) serving Westchester, Rockland, Putnam and Suffolk counties, and heads a team of nine educators. In her 12 years with Planned Parenthood, she and her staff have trained over 300 peer educators and organized 12 Teen Health Conferences attended annually by over 800 teens and professionals. Suzanne received the Golden APPLE Award for excellence in leadership by the Association of Planned Parenthood Leaders in Education last year. In 2001 she was selected to participate in a study tour in The Netherlands, Germany and France on adolescent sexual behavior and attitudes. Suzanne is the mother of two grown sons.

Amy Schalet is a PhD candidate in Sociology at the University of California at Berkeley (BA Harvard University, 1992). She has conducted over 130 in-depth interviews with American and Dutch teens and their parents, a project that will culminate in her dissertation "Raging Hormones, Regulated Love: Adolescent Sexuality and the Constitution of the Modern Individual in the US and the Netherlands." She has published her research widely in English and Dutch and is frequently invited to speak at national and international conferences.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP

Carl Schafer served in the Kennedy and Johnson administration before becoming head of a congressional committee staff. Mr. Schafer was at Princeton University for almost 20 years – most of that serving as CFO. In addition, he has managed investments for the Rockefeller Family. Currently Mr. Schafer is president of the Atlantic Foundation, serves on the board of a number of corporations and mutual funds and works with several families.

THOUGHT LEADERSHIP (continued)

William S. Robertson is a graduate of Princeton University and former investment analyst at Merrill Lynch. Mr. Robertson served as President and Chairman of the Board of Loriva Supreme Foods from 1984 to 2000. Currently, he is a director for several organizations including Nspired Natural Foods, The Banbury Fund and Cold Spring Harbor Laboratory.

John Linnartz is founder of Linnartz & Associates, LLC. Previously, Mr. Linnartz worked for GE in the high technology arena. It was here that he helped GE build important relationships with Sun, IBM, Oracle, Cisco and Intel. Mr. Linnartz is our acting visionary leader, helping PMF in our ongoing quest to develop innovative business strategies.

FILM PRODUCTION

Ellen Seider graduated with a BA from Harvard University and then received her MA from UC Berkeley in Journalism. She currently teaches graduate level courses in videography and editing for digital media at the Graduate School of Journalism, U.C. Berkeley. Ellen has worked for over ten years in producing, directing, shooting and editing independent video projects such as Fighting For Our Lives: Facing AIDS in San Francisco (1987), Texas City, Texas (1995), The Incest Project (1997) and Too Much, Too Soon- Teens Talk Pregnancy (1998).

Andrei Rozen holds a BA in film and is a graduate of the American Film Institute, Director's Program. After graduation from AFI, Andrei has participated in several international film projects. Among them is a 45 min. narrative film, "Tear On The Cheek Of The World", shot on location in Israel. "Tear On The Cheek..." received the Barbra Streisand award for the best Jewish film in UCLA Film Festival. In Vietnam, Andrei worked as a Second Unit Cameraman on the production of the one hour narrative film, "Yellow Lotus" directed by Tony Bui. "Yellow Lotus" won awards at Cannes Festival, Milan and San Francisco International Film Festivals.

EVALUATION

Dr. Dale Rose is co-founder of the Berkeley-based consulting firm 3D Group. He is an expert in psychometric measurement, evaluation research, and assessment-based human resources solutions. He has extensive experience evaluating education programs and has worked with companies ranging from Fortune 500 corporations to small non-profits. Dr. Rose is currently adjunct faculty at San Francisco State University, where he teaches a graduate course in Organization Development and Change. He has presented his work nationally and also published articles in academic journals including Evaluation Review, Journal of Business and Psychology, and Journal of Educational Research. Dr. Rose holds a Doctoral degree in Industrial and Organizational Psychology from DePaul University with a minor in Organizational Effectiveness Technologies.

YOUTH/PEER EDUCATORS

Sonya Dublin has been running youth development and peer health education programs for 5 years in both school and community based agencies. She is currently the Youth Development and HIV Prevention Services Coordinator for the Berkeley High School Health Center. She coordinates peer sexual health education programs that support youth in doing classroom presentations, running a street outreach program, and organizing community events to increase awareness about sexual health. She brings a background in community organizing, HIV prevention and clinical health education to this project.

Dina Jennings is a junior at De Anza High School in Richmond, California. She is a photographer and musician and started a Gay/Straight Alliance at her school.

Liza Brown is a sophomore at Berkeley High School. She has been a peer health educator for two years.

| |
|---|
| YOUTH/PEER EDUCATORS (continued) |
|---|

Ocir is a fashion design student at San Francisco State University. He is a peer-educator who works with people of color around socio-political issues.

Sylvia Shin graduated from Berkeley High in 2002 where she was class president and a peer health educator.

Patrick Shipp is a freshman at UC Santa Cruz. He is a musician and has worked with peers for gay rights.

Alfredo Griffin is also known as M.C. Orukusaki of the Forensic Science Hip Hop Crew. He and his crew are involved in making music, break dancing and creating visual art.

Aima “Yams” Paule is a hip hop artist who is currently working on several albums. Aima wrote and performed the theme music for The Silence of Sex.

D’naya Gulley is a sophomore at Richmond High School. She is a mother of a two-year old baby and part of a parenting group at her school.

Chayla Summers graduated from Berkeley High School in 2002. She was a peer health educator and worked with Health Initiatives for Youth.