WORLD'S MOST ECO-FRIENDLY CARWASH BREAKS GROUND IN NORTH VANCOUVER

March 29, 2005 – North Vancouver, BC:

In February 2004, the Greater Vancouver Water District implemented its Water Shortage Response Plan (WSRP) which targeted CARWASHING as a major user of treated drinking water. The GVRD has now proposed stringent water restrictions on all treated water use, with a 25% summer surcharge for water consumption being considered.

With all this attention on water consumption, it begs the question:

How can a carwash be Eco-Friendly?

- Easywash does NOT use treated GVRD drinking water to wash cars
- Easywash instead uses well water to wash cars, dogs, bikes, flush toilets and irrigate the site
- Easywash will save 24,000,000 litres of treated drinking water EVERY YEAR using and recycling well water.
- Easywash will be built to the exacting LEED rating system for GREEN building construction
- Easywash will be powered by a state-of-the-art Hydrogen Fuel Cell

Easywash is setting the standard for sustainable development in our industry:

- World's First LEED Certified Carwash
- World's First Hydrogen Fuel Cell Powered Carwash
- World's Most Eco-Friendly Carwash
