Viking Legacy comes to Scotland

Legacy Charters Ltd announces a new and exciting Luxury yacht charter in Scotland

Viking Legacy a 29 metre ocean-going luxury motor yacht is available for charter from the 2005 season onwards.

Viking Legacy has a crew of six including Captain, Engineer, Chef, deckhand and two stewardesses. Guest accommodation comprises four luxury cabins with full en-suite facilities.

With an operating range of 4000 nautical miles, the Viking Legacy offers a unique opportunity to explore the West coast and Inner isles from its base at Oban or Inverkip in Scotland.

The West Coast of Scotland offers a wide variety of beautiful and rustic scenery, from the hubbub and excitement of the larger marinas to the secluded and normally hard to reach tranquil settings of the many lochs. Legacy Charters have a selection of suggested cruise routes and itineraries which are completely flexible and offered as a guide only.

The abundance of uniquely different islands just a short cruise in sheltered waters from the mainland, each offer their own unique variety of activities. Yacht charterers can visit Skye, Islay, Mull, Rum, Eigg, Canna, Colonsay, the Summer Isles, and explore the many sea lochs and inlets on the mainland coast.

A great range of activities are offered, from Dolphin spotting to white water rafting, or teeing-off on one of the many magnificent courses that the home of Golf has to offer.

Golf excursions can be organised with ground or helicopter transfer between the yacht and golf course.

Viking Legacy also has a range of equipment for water based activities, including a jet ski, wakeboards, water-skis and fishing tackle.

For the more adventurous, Legacy Charters can also tailor alternative routes around the many spectacular cruising areas of Northern Europe, including the Norwegian fjords.

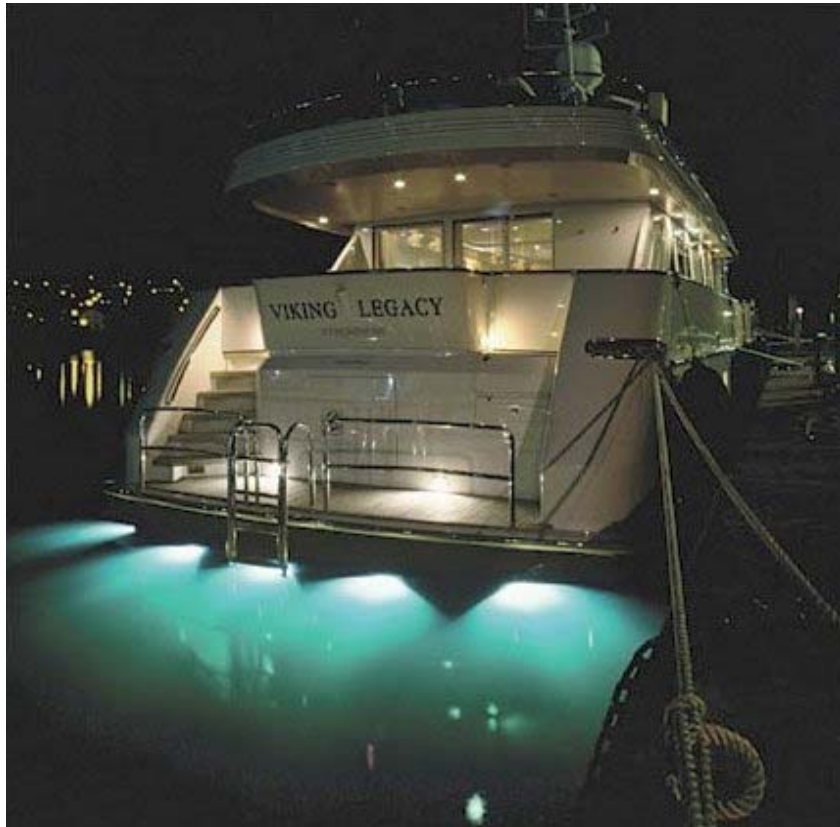

Viking Legacy can be chartered from 3 nights upwards, costing €45,000 for a 7 night charter, plus a 25% provisioning allowance to cover fuel, harbour fees, food and drink and other sundry costs.
