SPACE INCLUDES:

- 20 shared workstations with high-speed Internet connections -- including wireless
- subscriptions to online search engines and other resources
- a lounge and meeting room designed to host writers' workshops, author readings, and film screenings
- a communal spot for writers to use the phone, interact or just relax.

But more than that, free agents jonesing for some camaraderie get all the fun of a workplace that is free of office politics, brownnosing, and the dreaded boss (your own literary conscience excluded, of course.)
