FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

January 10, 2005

Colorado Springs, CO - The National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) and College Sports Careers announce the creation of the STARS program. The Student Athletes Realizing Success program is aimed at providing student athletes the tools to find internship, volunteer, and job opportunities to prepare them for a successful career after college. The goal of the program is to help student athletes gain the experience they need to excel in their chosen career after college.

"College Sports Careers is a young company that will grow as more administrators and those affiliated with the NJCAA member schools learn about the many services of their company. We believe this partnership will serve as a very positive communication tool for member schools who are looking at reaching beyond the community college market", said NJCAA Executive Director Wayne Baker. "Most importantly, this new relationship provides our member institutions with a greater opportunity to not only promote positions they have open within their administrative departments but within their coaching ranks as well."

We provide free admission to our career searching services for student athletes and college students. They have the opportunity to search for careers, post an online resume, and receive e-mail notifications of open positions. In addition to full-time positions they can search for internship, volunteer, and summer camp opportunities. These positions help provide student athletes and college students the fundamentals necessary to begin their career after college.

"College Sports Careers provides student athletes the opportunity to find jobs in college athletic departments from across the country. Our services provide a one-stop shopping experience for internship, volunteer, and temporary summer jobs as well, said Geoffrey Sakala, President and owner. We believe student athletes can benefit tremendously by the services we offer. The best part of the program is that the membership is completely free."

Each month in the College Sports Careers newsletter to career seekers, they feature employers and their employment advertisements. Employers who select to have their career advertisements featured in their monthly newsletter will be able to advertise their job opportunity to hundreds of student athletes directly from inside their e-mail inbox. In addition, College Sports Careers offers student athletes the option of selecting up to three specific career categories for e-mail notification. As careers are posted online by employers, student athletes are automatically notified via e-mail that a job matching one of their career categories is available for viewing.

“The NJCAA is about student athletes and College Sports Careers is proud to support each and every student athlete by enabling them to reach their full potential. Our goal is to help all student athletes achieve their dreams through athletic competition and enriching experiences”, stated Geoffrey Sakala, President and owner.
