BuyCostumes.TV Feature Programs

When www.BuyCostumes.TV launches publicly on August 15th, viewers around the world can log on and tune in to the feature programs listed below (consult the site for show times). You, on the other hand, can take a sneak peek before that launch date (consult your Press Pass for details).

Each program is a runway show with professional models —think New York Fashion Week but with costumes. Rather than Kate Moss, you have Dorothy; instead of übermodel Brad Kroenig, you've got Darth Vader (with automated breathing machine, of course). As Fallen Angel, Napoleon Dynamite, Harry Potter, and more than 100 other characters walk the catwalk, the Queens of Halloween discuss the costumes, their material, prices, sizes, accessories, and, best of all, ideas for making this your most fashionable Halloween ever. Get a chance to see your potential costume in action on the runway. It's the haute couture of October 31st. This year, Halloween is fashion.
