

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

My mom is a beautiful lady and a pillar of strength.
When I was young, she took me, many times, to every museum and gallery in New York City. We went to the Bronx zoo and Bronx Botanical gardens.
She taught me culture but not snootiness.
She taught me, love, respect, and honesty.
If you're not all these things to yourself, you can not be to others.

Chris whos' wife passed away, and my mom who was divorced, were introduced to each other, by me, in 1982 .
They have been together ever since.
Chris, my dad, has been with the Volunteer Fire Service since 1963. He has been editor of the WVFA newsletter for 34 years.

They make a great couple!
