SOLUTIONS FOR THE BUSINESS SIDE OF FEDERAL TECHNOLOGY

Leverage for Federal Prime Contractors

Federal agencies today are asking their prime contractors to provide services and deliverables related to plans, budgets, capital investment management, acquisition, security, architecture, performance evaluation, CIO functions, and program/project management support.

The P2C2 Group is a professional services firm offering a team of independent consultants who are experts on the business side of Federal technology. Our team is dedicated to the success of our prime contractor and the mission attainment of the government customer.

The P2C2 Group is a widely recognized, branded consulting practice that enables our prime contractors to win contracts and maximize customer satisfaction within a cost structure that is significantly lower than alternative sources of qualified expertise. Our prime contractor is able to reduce the cost of subcontracting and offer the government very competitive pricing.

Value Proposition

The P2C2 Group delivers value by:

- Providing high-end expertise needed to win and perform projects
- Working smarter so that fixed-price contracts are both profitable and competitively priced
- Supporting timely performance of challenging mission-critical projects
- Using exceptional performance to help our prime gain more business
- Preparing high-quality deliverables.
