SAGERIGHT PARTNERS WITH PRAGMATIC SOFTWARE
Value Added Reseller Partnership

Pragmatic Software Company (http://www.pragmaticsw.com) announced today that it has partnered with SageRight (http://www.sageright.com), a Northborough, MA based provider of application life-cycle management solutions.

"We offer a product called Software Planner (http://www.SoftwarePlanner.com), that manages all phases of the software lifecycle", said Steve Miller, President of Pragmatic Software.   "We were impressed by SageRight's project management methodology, known as the SageWay™ Process. This methodology provides a blue print for software companies to deliver software solutions on-time and on-budget, in a repeatable fashion. Having SageRight as a partner paves the way for SageRight to marry the methodology with a state-of-the art tool that can allow their clients to enjoy the same success with implementing their solutions on-time and on-budget. SageRight is authorized to provide installation, branding, training and other value added services for their clients.", adds Miller.

"From concept to customer support, information management is a key component of application life-cycle management.", said Neal Firth, Chief Technology Officer of SageRight. "Pragmatic products provide SageRight with the feature-rich framework that mission critical solutions require.", adds Firth.
