

Frequently Asked Questions

1. What is "Million Dollar Blog Spots"?
2. What is the difference between a blogspot and a million dollar blog spot?
3. Why should I list my blog?
4. Where can I advertise my blog and what is the minimum purchase?
5. How do I place an order?
6. Do you accept Credit Cards?
7. Do you accept web sites other than blog sites?
8. Do you do graphics work for my ad?
9. Can you tell me how many clicks my ad has received?

1. What is "Million Dollar Blog Spots"?

Million Dollar Blog Spots is a site dedicated to the blog community. We understand the value of a blog whether for persuasion, ranting, current events, political, social or business. This site was created for you. Listing your blog gives you an opportunity to get your site in front of potentially millions of viewers.

2. What is the difference between a blogspot and a million dollar blog spot?

Google owns Blogger which allows an individual to create a journal entry on its blogspot.com domain. This is a blogspot whereas a million dollar blog spot is 100 pixels worth $100 which links to a blog. It can only be found on the Million Dollar Blog Spots web site.

3. Why should I list my blog?

Because you get an opportunity to draw traffic to your site. You will be able to link your million dollar blog spot back to your blog. The bigger and more creative your million dollar blog spot(s), the better chance traffic will be re-directed to your site. I also list your site on the Showcase Blogs web page. If you are skeptical of this, please read the testimonies of the very successful site Million Dollar Homepage.

4. Where can I advertise my blog and what is the minimum purchase?

Anywhere a spot has not been purchased or reserved by someone else. You will be able to determine this by signing up and going to the 'select your pixels' web page. There is no limit in the amount of spots you can purchase. The bigger your ad, the more viewable 'real estate' displayed for potential traffic. The minimum purchase is $100 for a 10 x 10 spot (100 pixels).

5. How do I place an order?

Click on 'Order Spots Now!' at the top of the home page or click this link Order Spots Now!. You will then be asked to create a member id and password. After signing up, you will receive a validation email to verify your email address. After validation, you may login and purchase some pixels. Your account includes access to Order Pixels, Manage Pixels, and see your account Order History.

6. Do you accept Credit Cards?

Yes. I accept Visa and Mastercard through the payment processor Pay Pal.

7. Do you accept web sites other than blog sites?

No. This site is dedicated to bloggers, blogs, blogspots, blogging... you get the point. I would like to see very cool and interesting blogs listed - blogs that re-directed traffic will want to spend hours surfing. However, I decide what gets placed on the Million Dollar Blog Spots site. I will not list sites dedicated to hate, pornography, or of an otherwise illegal, immoral or unethical nature.

8. Do you do graphics work for my ad?

No. However, when opening a graphics software like Photoshop, you can start a new image and select the number of pixels you want your ad to be. For instance, if you select a size that is 10 pixels (width) by 20 pixels (height), you will occupy 2 million dollar blog spots (200 pixels). Saving and uploading your image as a .png works best.

9. Can you tell me how many clicks my ad has received?

Once you have signed up, you can view within your account how many clicks your ad has received.