MicroAccounting Solutions Expands To Chicago Market
New Firm To Focus on Sage Software Solutions

CHICAGO, IL—January 13, 2006—MicroAccounting Solutions, one of the nation's top five business partners for Sage MAS 90 and Sage MAS 200 today announced it has opened a Chicago office, expanding its geographic coverage and offering specialized services to businesses in the Chicago area.

MicroAccounting Solutions Chicago is the result of a partnership with MicroAccounting Solutions Dallas. The company has purchased the accounting software division of Alliance Technology Group, LLC (ATG) and will staff its Chicago office with many of the former accounting software division staff members of ATG, including Paul Ziliak, who will serve as president.

"MicroAccounting Solutions Chicago will focus on providing Sage Software products and services," explained Ziliak, "With such a select focus we can offer both our existing and our new clients exceptional service and attention. Our team of consultants is highly trained and has broad experience in the business marketplace and with Sage Software solutions."

"The decision to expand our reach into the Midwest by partnering with Mr. Ziliak and his talented team represents a tremendous opportunity for our organization and will benefit all of our clients through expanded services and geographical coverage," said Bill Harris, president of MicroAccounting Solutions Dallas.

MicroAccounting Solutions is a Sage Software Select Partner, focusing exclusively on Sage Software solutions, including Sage MAS 90, Sage MAS 200, and Sage MAS 500. The company's service offering includes: software selection, implementation, project management, and certified training on Sage Software products.
