Play NFL Championship Squares Sports Pool And Win Big!
Football Betting Makes it Easy to Enjoy the NFL Odds. The NFL line and NFL point spreads can be profitable for you during the NFL playoffs with this sports pool option.

There were some surprise upsets in last weekends NFL playoff games with Indianapolis and Chicago eliminated from the playoffs. The games now head into the NFL Championship games this weekend, and the football betting will be fast and furious. Will your favorite team win? Do you bet your favorite or bet the NFL line and NFL point spreads? Sports pools, particularly those focusing on the NFL playoffs, give you a fun and easy option.

“Our sports pools offer a low-risk betting option with a high return,” said David Rippe, president of Celestia International, a marketing firm. “Plus, you’re only competing against a low number of other players making your chances of winning much better than Las Vegas style gambling sites. A $10 wager can return as much as $850!”

Here are the potential payoffs for a squares sports pool at www.coolsportspools.com

$5 bet—you can win $425

$10 bet—you can win $850

$20 bet—you can win $1,700

$50 bet—you can win $4,250

CoolSportsPools.com new site at www.CoolSportsPools.com has provided a fun and easy way to enjoy football betting. Rather than being seen as a sports bookmaker, the web site is more of a sports pool promoter. And the NFL playoffs are popular.

“The first two weeks of NFL playoffs weekend were fun, and we had some interesting pools going on with some surprise winners, especially with the Pittsburgh Steelers victory over the Indianapolis Colts, ” “We have created a great environment where the average person can fulfill their sports betting desires without the hassle and pressure of dealing with Las Vegas type, high-pressure bookmakers,” he continued.

“College students, office workers and sports fans alike love the idea of competing in sports pools with virtually no risk,” said David Rippe. “We’ve developed a solution that doesn’t require a big investment but can return large winnings. Activity is really picking up here in the third week of the NFL playoffs.”

The Denver Broncos versus the Pittsburgh Steelers...Denver’s great home field playoff record versus the tough Pittsburgh defense. And the surprise (at least to some) Carolina Panthers visiting the Seattle Seahawks. Both match-ups look to be great games, and they’re both available at CoolSportsPools.com. It makes no difference what the NFL odds are...the NFL line (or NFL point spread) can be used to your advantage.

“The idea of wagering a small amount, say $5, against your friends and others, makes the sports betting experience more fun and exciting,” David Rippe continued. “Our idea is to offer online sports betting pools in all of the active sports when they’re being played. Of course, football betting is the ‘hot topic’ right now.”
