Jim Berg is a former broker, private trader and lecturer with over 20 years experience in the investment industry. He has appeared on CNBC Asia and Market Wrap and is a regular guest speaker at such institutions as the Australian Stock Exchange (ASX), the Sydney Futures Exchange (SFE), the Australian Technical Analysts Association (ATAA) & the Traders Expos at capital cities throughout Australia. Jim is the co-editor of his own popular weekly Investing & Online Trading stock market newsletter. He also answers questions on the share market at the unique 'Ask Jim Berg' segment at the www.sharescene.com, stock market forum.

The Stock Trading Handbook helps the inexperienced investor take the first steps to trading successfully plus helps existing traders and investors to increase their performance and profitability. The specific tools for online trading and investing are explained and grouped together in an example of a trading system. The section on investor psychology will help readers understand how an individual's personality and beliefs can sabotage their success.

Louise Bedford, author of 'Trading Secrets' and 'The Secret of Candlestick Charting' wrote in the foreword: "The Stock Trading Handbook is a comprehensive, practical guide inspired by Jim's years of experience. If you are after a no-nonsense, easy-to-follow, direct book that will help you get started trading the markets by combining fundamental and technical analysis, then this is the book for you"

Jim gives step-by-step examples of how to build and refine a personalised trading strategy using some of the tools from his Trading Strategies with Metastock Home Study Course.

This guide-book combines fundamental and technical analysis for complete novices to experienced traders.

It includes:

How The Market Works
Self Managed Superannuation Funds
The Importance of market psychology
Fundamental Analysis explained
Money & Risk management
The role of Technical Analysis - indicators & patterns
Profitable trading strategies that really work
Putting it All Together

Jim's original Share Traders Handbook is no longer available in a book format. It has been completely updated & retitled and is now an ebook - The Stock Trading Handbook to download immediately to your computer.

Jim Berg's new Volatility Charting Template for Metastock NOW AVAILABLE

"...I started using the Profit Target for exit points and I must say, it is more fun to sell into a rally than to sell through a stop after giving up some profit. I also programmed the short side version as an aid to determining when a sell-off was nearing completion. This has been helpful achieving better entries into long positions.

Using these indicators has changed the way I trade for the better and has helped me achieve my retirement income goals in 2005, thanks." Ed Christianson, Pittsburgh, USA

I'd like to add my personal enthusiasm for this great product (Investing & Online Trading Stock Market Newsletter). I subscribe and everyone I know who has trialled or bought a subscription has been more than happy. Its really a bargain for what you get. The contents are just stunning. I love the psychology aspect as well. That's really lacking elsewhere. Go Jim and John! Do yourself a favour and check it out if you haven't already. Good stuff. Geoff Regards, ADMIN1

Hi everyone,

I would also like to express my deepest gratitude to Jim and John. An enormous amount of work must be going into this well designed and thought through newsletter. I guess, only you know how much time is involved in getting the material together and how many other things you have to sacrifice in order to provide us with the knowledge.

I have purchased (last October) all the newsletters and working my way through all of them.

I find it easy to read and a step by step process walks you through all the necessary aspects of trading.

I also find it very important to look at trading from the psychology site of it. Via the newsletter I came across the book of Dr. Steenbarger which has changed my life. I am certainly not even near where I want to go and I know that with the newsletter I will get there.

Receiving the newsletter every week is a joy and making it to a habit to read it on Sunday, is certainly a worth while goal. Whoever is interested to learn about the market and approaching it in a professional and emotional free way needs to try it for themselves. Only then can you make a true judgment call. I would compare it with fishing, it's no good to get the fish, if you don't know how to catch it yourself. That's what stock recommendations are for me, no more than a fish - no skill involved and most likely very costly. Remember Enron? it was still recommended by institutions almost to the end.

I wish everyone a happy new year and lots of success - not just in trading but also in life. Kind regards Katrin

The key to winning in the market is internal, not external. Quote from Dr Steenbarger - Psychology of Trading

Dear Jim and John, Thanks for your support, getting instant email replies like I get from you is rare these days. I have seen all the newsletters available in the marketplace and have subscribed to a few, however yours is the best. You have a top quality newsletter which is easy to read and study. I would thoroughly recommend it. Yours Sincerely, Ian J Bourke.
