With a little advance planning and the right information, it is possible to save as much as 70% off of business travel and vacation packages. Once the aircraft and carrier have been identified, it is easy to check seat locations and to exchange a cramped center seat beside the lavatory for a seat that has extended leg room, a power outlet, a privacy curtain, or even a small desk area. The site also offers cost effective upgrade tips, like some common destinations and flights for which the First Class tickets are actually less expensive than the Coach fare. Information like this can turn an arduous experience into a leisurely return home or a more productive business trip.

International travelers will appreciate the on-line Currency Converter tool at www.ExecutiveBlueprints.com/traveltips.htm . To make the most of a cost effective budget, select low cost hotels, airlines and rental cars that earn points for Five Star luxury hotels and resorts. Use business trips at Holiday Inn Express to earn a stay at a Crowne Plaza

Resort, or make reservations at Fairfield Suites to earn a vacation at a Marriott Resort. Use long stays to earn discount Spa Packages and reasonably priced perks. Maximize travel plans with a conscientious approach to budget and rewards.

While visiting the site, print a generic copy of Rule 240 to keep in Carry-on luggage. If a flight is cancelled or delayed for more than two hours, there may be an opportunity to request an alternative flight at no extra charge, even if it means using a different airline. If the delay is more than four hours, the airline may provide hotel accommodations. Specific language of Rule 240 varies by airline carrier. Print and carry a copy of Rule 240, then be courteous and polite while asking for alternatives in the event of a cancellation or long delay.
