

STR8 CAINE has been holding down the mic and the midwest mixtape scene for 10 years...The NW Ohio MC is a direct product of the streets and the reality of a hard knock life.

"I was born to a single parent household... I had a step dad on crack and my moms was just doing her best in raising me." says Caine " She was a high school dropout living the everyday struggle, basically a child trying to raise a child. I took what she had to offer me, from friends and TV shows...

That was my family. I have a large extended family...you know people who really don't express the 'I love yous' and all that. My peoples were like 'If you get in some trouble...we'll help get yo' ass out of it...if somebody trying to fight you we got yo' back!'...That's how it was and is...When I got into the game, I went back to the roots of Hip Hop...when 2Pac died I became a monster on the mic, slaying all comers. I use my life as my canvass for my art, my words and lyrics reflect the frustration of the streets and the need to be heard."
