Annie Haslam

Press Release

Vocalist ANNIE HASLAM releases 'LIVE' Studio Concert on DVD in May 2006.

Originally filmed in front of a 'live' audience in 1997, the newly released DVD features some of the most popular Annie Haslam songs. The 'LIVE' Studio Concert DVD was filmed in Philadelphia by The Prism TV Network and is released through the label 'Voiceprint UK'.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania:

Annie Haslam just released her first DVD, titled 'LIVE' Studio Concert, Philadelphia, 1997. Haslam was accompanied in the concert by musicians Rave Tesar, David Biglin, and Joe Goldberger. Some of the DVD's most notable tracks are 'After The Oceans Are Gone', 'Carpet Of The Sun', and 'Seashell Eyes'. Many of Haslam's long-time fans were in the audience to hear both new and older familiar favorites of Annie's; some she has co-written herself.

Haslam's singing and songwriting career spans over thirty years. Her astonishing five-octave voice has been featured on more than forty-eight albums to date. Annie has performed at numerous 'live' venues throughout the world. Her appearances include such legendary establishments as Carnegie Hall, New York, with the New York Philharmonic Orchestra, and The Royal Albert Hall, London, with The Royal Philharmonic Orchestra together with The Royal Chorale Society.

Originally from Lancashire, England, Annie began her professional career as the lead vocalist for the seventies British group, 'Renaissance'. Annie Haslam's releases with 'Renaissance' span from 1972 through 1987. Annie's recording career continued to develop over the years to include multiple solo recordings, most notably 'Annie in Wonderland', 'Live' Under Brazilian Skies', and 'The Dawn Of Ananda'. Several recordings are under Annie's own label, 'White Dove Records'.

Annie has also recorded with Justin Hayward, Pete Townshend, Roy Wood, Phil Collins, and many other legendary artists. Annie Haslam now resides in Pennsylvania, USA.
