

How to get rid of cellulite while you exercise

A simple solution for a smooth and beautiful body just in time for the beach

New York, NY – June 8, 2006 - LegLuxe.com (www.LegLuxe.com) introduces its new micro-massage Silver Wave compression shorts from Solidea. Built with a patented “wave” knit, it gently massages your skin cleansing the fats and toxins that instigate cellulite.

Solidea has now combined its seamless apparel technology with silver ions to create a body regulating material which wicks moisture away and dissipates heat, keeping skin temperature cool.

The Silver Wave shorts are designed by Calzificio Pinelli of Italy and are based upon their original micro-massage shorts. These anti cellulite products are not another “miracle” cellulite sensation. They simply bring about a deep yet gentle skin massage, utilizing your natural body movement, mimicking several tried and proven cellulite treatment techniques such as Endromologie.

These treatments are extremely expensive and time consuming and the results do not last for very long after treatment is stopped.

Exercising has also been by far the one of the most effective weapons in the fight against cellulite. Now you can get rid of cellulite much easier and faster. So while you engage in your favorite workout just slip on a pair of Silver Wave shorts and watch those fatty dimples just melt away.

Silver Wave anti-cellulite shorts, as well as other exciting Solidea products, are now available at legluxe.com in biker shorts, Bermuda shorts or Capri length and in several trendy colors.
