

Okyere Bonna combines investigative writing with the heart of an experienced and caring teacher. Okyere is a soccer fan and has also played amateur soccer at the secondary and college levels. He earned his BA (with honors) in Political Science and Religions from the University of Ghana where he served as SRC Secretary and as executive committee member of the National Union of Ghana Students (NUGS) in 1989/90. His graduate level training is from the prestigious Franciscan (Catholic) University of Steubenville in Ohio in the United States where he earned his MBA and MS in Education.

Okyere Bonna has published various articles on social and political issues concerning Ghana. He is also well known for his Vocabulary Trailblazers For Christian Youth Series, a line of books written to enhance Christian education. Okyere Bonna currently serves as the Secretary of the Ghana Leadership Union, Inc. and Vice- President of Ghana Investment Club. He is married to Dr. Magdalene Marfo. They have two children, Petra and Patrick.

Football is not only a wonderful game that unites millions of fans around the world, it is also a modern symbol of solidarity on account of its diversity - irrespective of faith, colour of skin, political commitments and affiliations, people are carried away by this beautiful, emotional and exciting spectacle

Thousands of Ghanaian soccer fans thronged the precincts of the Arrival Hall of the Kotoka International Airport to catch a glimpse of the Black Stars who returned from the 2006 Germany World Cup soccer tournament on Friday June 30, 2006. Ghanaians walked around, chest erect, flags on cars, looking others in the eye and happily asserting their nationality.

For a brief moment redolent of the imminent Ghana's 50th birthday of independence, the national soccer team, the Black Stars, has made it possible for Ghanaians to relive their dream—the PRIDE OF AFRICA.

Dedicated to all Ghana's Past and living Soccer Heroes

ISBN: 1-4257-2576-7

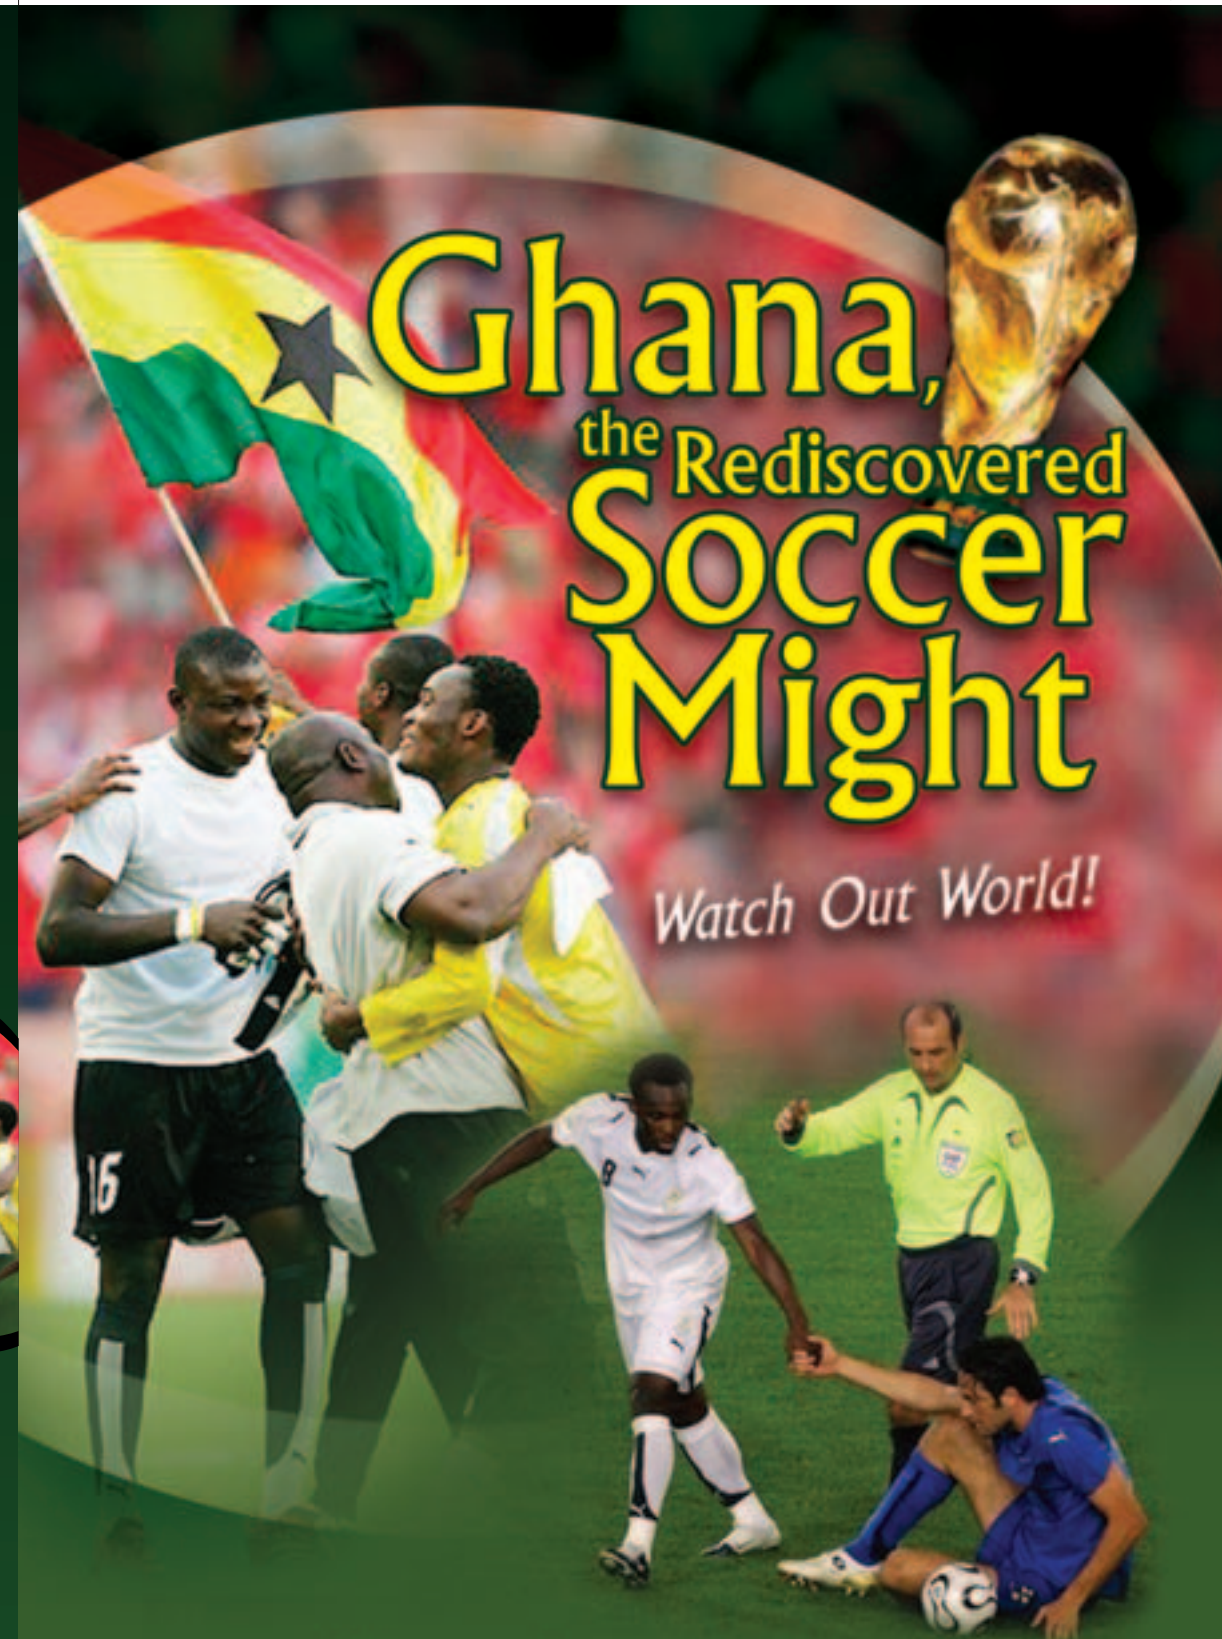

9 781425 725761 (35479)

Ghana, the Rediscovered Soccer Might

Okyere Bonna, MBA

Ghana, the Rediscovered Soccer Might

Watch Out World!

Okyere Bonna, MBA