

Resco Unveils New Version of Photo Viewer 2007

Bratislava, Slovakia (May 24, 2007) — Resco, the company that brought many popular applications to users in the past, is announcing the release of the new version of the ever popular Resco Photo Viewer 2007.

This viewer is without doubt the most commonly preferred photo and image viewing application amongst users, not only for its viewing functions, but also for the other technical possibilities it possesses, like editing, playing slide shows, and drawing. A newly added possibility is to upload your favorite pictures on to the Internet straight from your device. All the features Resco Photo Viewer has to offer are easy to use, and come in a graphically appealing interface. It makes no difference if users want to share a presentation with colleagues or just show family albums to friends, Resco Photo Viewer's newest feature lets users upload all of their pictures onto the most popular online photo gallery at flickr.com. Resco Photo Viewer lets you do it all with ease.

The newest version includes many new features, alongside the exciting new possibility to ensure pictures are available anytime by uploading them flickr.com. Uploading photos saves mobile users loads of memory space without having to delete any captured memories. Now they can stay close at hand and are convenient to view at any time.

“A gorgeous program that brings the necessity of using a digital photo frame down to zero. Especially when you own a VGA PDA, there is no alternative to Resco Photo Viewer.

Presenting photos on the road, showing a little ‘that was my holiday’ presentation requires a tool that allows not only playback of pictures, but basic tools to bring them to life. Resco Photo Viewer definitely is one of those tools for the purpose not to miss.”
