

June 2007
For Immediate Release

PTI Packaging Systems Appoints Jeffrey Crangle as General Manager

Tuckahoe, NY (June 26, 2007) – Jeffrey Crangle has been appointed to the position of general manager of PTI Packaging Systems. Crangle brings over 20 years of international sales and marketing experience specializing in the packaging industry.

Crangle began his career in packaging in 1986 and has steadily maintained this industry focus. He has held executive positions throughout his career including vice president of sales and marketing of international products for a large American packaging machinery manufacturer. Crangle was responsible for opening and managing the United States sales operation for Atoma/Multipond, the German manufacturer of combination weighers. Since the year 2000, he held the positions of OEM sales manager for weighing equipment and product development manager for case packing solutions at Yamato Corporation.

“The packaging industry faces challenges regarding cost reduction and process optimization.” Crangle commented. “Demands for packaging technologies are advancing at unprecedented rates. PTI’s vertical approach offers the perfect blend of the best in class equipment with the commitment to provide our clients with complete packaging line machine solutions combining the filling and sealing of product, material handling, sterilization, package integrity inspection and case packing. PTI has partnered with world class manufacturers and leaders in the packaging machinery industry who have an unequalled reputation for quality.” Crangle adds, “PTI is without a doubt an end-to-end solutions provider for both new and existing project requirements. There is virtually unlimited potential industry-wide to promote these technologies in today’s fast paced market.”

Tony Stauffer, president of PTI noted, “We are very excited to have Jeffrey on board to lead our efforts in promoting our packaging technologies. His background and extensive experience in both sales & marketing and product development are tremendous assets to our team. His enthusiasm combined with his knowledge and expertise will enable him to effectively manage and promote the PTI Packaging Systems Division.”

PTI Packaging Systems provides end-to-end packaging solutions for pouch, sachet, stick pack, cup and tray filling & sealing applications. Through its diverse distribution, representation and OEM activities, you can rely on focused consultancy services, “gold standard” technology solutions, and unparalleled engineering support. From product development, through market launch, and next generation lightweighting, count on PTI Packaging Systems to offer packaging solutions with a focus on your bottom line.

Please contact Sanjeet Saxena for further information.

Sanjeet Saxena
Tel: 914.337.2005
Fax: 914.337.8519

s.saxena@ptiusa.com
<http://www.ptipacktech.com>