Crouch, Slavin & Company Expands Team
New team members will work with clients to ensure success

Tulsa, OK – August 8, 2007 – Crouch, Slavin & Company, a leading professional services firm offering HRMS and accounting applications to businesses in the Southwest, is pleased to announce the addition of Christine Luttrell and Judy Stanfield.

Christine Luttrell joins Crouch, Slavin & Company as a Senior Sales Representative based in Dallas. She is responsible for building CS&Co's North Texas practice by helping prospective clients select a combination of software and services to meet their desired objectives. Christine has a diverse background spanning numerous industries such as oil and gas, medical and human capital. Additionally, Christine is active in the Dallas Human Resource Association and has served as a past SHRM Foundation Chairperson.

Serving as a client's immediate non-technical point of contact, Judy Stanfield joins CS&Co as the Client Account Manager. Judy is responsible for maintaining client relationships through proactive communication. Prior to joining Crouch, Slavin & Company, Judy spent three years working in England with the U.S. Department of Defense. Additionally she spent 15 years as the Technical Support Manager for the Tulsa Public Schools ISD.

"We consistently work to improve our client's experience with our company," said Gary Crouch, president of Crouch, Slavin & Company. "The expertise that Christine and Judy bring to our team will greatly benefit both clients and prospective clients."

Crouch, Slavin & Company's clients will have an opportunity to meet both Christine and Judy at their eighth annual client conference, Solutions '07, to be held August 22-23. The conference is a tremendous opportunity for CS&Co's clients to receive valuable education on topics ranging from leadership development and team building to the latest product features.
