DeParis Redinger LLC welcomes Ron Wright to its Advisory Board

Ron Wright Brings Extensive Technology and Strategic Expertise to DeParis Redinger LLC

Charlottesville, VA 24 August 2007 – DeParis Redinger LLC (www.deparisredinger.com), a boutique investment bank that empowers visionaries in progressive industries, welcomes Ron Wright to its Advisory Board. Mr. Wright is a veteran of the healthcare, software and biotech industries. He is an active angel investor and sits on the board of five privately held corporations. Mr. Wright brings a seasoned level of technology and strategic experience to DPR's team.

When asked about his role going forward, Francesco DeParis, Managing Director at DeParis Redinger LLC replied "Ron will bring an immense amount of value to our team. His commitment to our firm's growth will greatly benefit our clients and our strategic goals over both the long and short term. We look forward to seeking his guidance on relevant issues."

Currently, Ron Wright is the Chairman and CEO of Next Century Technologies, Inc. (www.nxtcent.com), an international holding company of healthcare, software and biotechnology corporations. Since 2003, Mr. Wright has also served as President of JNetDirect Incorporated (www.jnetdirect.com), a leading Northern Virginia software company.

Mr. Wright was the Founder and CEO of Neurosoft , Inc., a manufacturer of neurodiagnostic instruments and neuroimaging software based systems. He established Neurosoft in 1988 and sold the company to The Marmon Group of Chicago in 1998. He remained with The Marmon Group until the end of 2002. Prior to Neurosoft, Mr. Wright was President of a private consulting practice based in New York.

"I am very pleased to be joining DPR's advisory board and I look forward to contributing my industrial experience and strategic counsel to the DPR team. The firm's focus on assisting innovative companies in healthcare, new media, energy and information technology with their long term growth and expansion requirements is exciting," stated Wright.
