Online Apprentice Program Stresses Charity and a Personal Approach to Success

- Rotherham, England, UK September 8, 2007: Dan J. Blackburn of Rotherham, England, launches a ground-breaking Internet training program today. Called “90-Day Apprentice”, the program focuses on helping aspiring, beginning and/or struggling Internet marketers take steps that will ensure their success in 90 days, all with a full guarantee. Mr. Blackburn, a former metallurgist turned successful online business owner, developed the training in honor of his own humble roots online. “I spent many years knowing that there was money to be made on the Internet, but having no idea how to get it. I invested thousands of pounds in the attempt to learn the secrets to making money online” says Mr. Blackburn. “Unfortunately, almost everything I bought was hype-driven, and did very little to help me succeed. After years of trial and error, I was finally able to leave my job to work full-time at home. I live comfortably and my desire is to help others find their own success using already proven techniques. I don’t want to see other people go that I have had to go through to get where they want to be.

The 90-Day Apprentice program is designed to show anyone how to create a full time income online, by completing 4 simple tasks over a 90 day period. The training is structured to show apprentices how to make money online quickly and build strong foundations for a successful Internet business. “Motivation and focus are where it’s at.” says Blackburn, “When you are motivated and focused success comes easy”.

But making money online quickly is not the only motivation offered by the 90 day apprentice program. Those who register to take part early, will have to opportunity to win a manager

Dan also encourages his "apprentices" to be charitable. To set an example, early registrars were not only given a deep discount, but over 50% of the fees were donated to a walker in the Breast Cancer 3-Day, benefiting Susan G. Komen for the Cure and the National Philanthropic Trust. 90 day apprentices collectively achieved the status of "honorary walker" by donating over $1000. "I believe that you have to give in order to receive" Dan states.

Dan Blackburn developed his first business, MoneyPumps.com in 2002 and now owns over 50 websites. He is focused on expanding his own success through the success of others. Dan is well-known and respected as an Internet business owner and consultant.
