HANDBAGS

You've Got the BUG?

Can you really afford the trends? Fashion, as you know, is fickle to say the least. You save and save for that favorite dress, and by the time you can afford to buy it the style is out, gone, kaput.

Fashion accessories are no different. And everybody knows, the accessories are the most important part of any wardrobe. Your wallet knows it too. Fear the price no more. AccessoryBug.com can have a Marc Jacobs luscious Stam bag swinging on your arm for a sliver of the cost of most high end retailers. It no longer takes hundreds of dollars to show off an Edith bag by Chloe; the Accessory Bug sells it in a price range that won't have you putting off next month's rent.

Although the Bug offers wallets and the latest in chic sunglasses, the main focus is on handbags. Whether you're looking for an evening clutch, the latest in trendy day bags or a hobo that can carry Poochie, the Bug has a design for you. The prices are so outrageously low, you'll want to pick up gifts for all your friends. Imagine the surprise when your friend opens the gift of a Valentino handbag.

I've caught the Accessory Bug!!!

Cheap Chica- Hola, Chicas. I present to you an online store called Accessory Bug. Accessory Bug is your one stop shop for all of your cute accessory needs. To the left is one of my favorite bags from the site. They have other designer inspired handbags as well. And did I mention that they had reasonable prices. Go see for yourself.

"Even if you don't care what it resembles, it's a great shape and perfect compliment to a sophisticated-chic outfit. Buy it at the fabulous Accessory Bug" shopalicious

"If you love Valentino's posh style, but have an eye on your purse strings, AccessoryBug has made it possible for you"

BUDGET DIVA

"Check out all the fab accessories being served up over at Accessory Bug, and because you are diva in charge of her finances always doing it in a fabulous way...on a budget that is"

The Fashionable Housewife

"I think this is a fantastic little bag that is perfect for at the beach or just shopping on the weekends. It looks like a really expensive handbag, but it's not!"

Damn, I like that!

"AccessoryBug.com has a whole page dedicated to evening bags and they have some really cute clutches for really affordable prices which makes it even better."

Vegan Fashion Blog

"And of course, what outfit is complete without a great purse. I love this Faux Leather Edith Satchel by Accessory Bug. It comes in both brown and orange. Normally, I am not much for orange accessories, but the orange used on the Edith Bag has grown on me. It is almost golden or bronzish (don't actually think this is a word) in color. Anyway, I love them both."

THE F

"This giant motorcycle clutch from Accessory Bug is currently on top of The F Lust List! Perfect for when you just don't feel like lugging around a bulky handbag, but still big enough for all your daily essentials. With it's soft faux leather and stylish gold tone hardware, this one's a must for every fashionista's collection!"

Look Book

"They have some cute styles and a cute price to match"

SO FRUGALICIOUS

"Accessory Bug is a great site to find the frugalicious version of your favorite designer bag."

Meet the Minds Behind the Madness

She is an international student, and wanted some way to earn a good living, without the drudgery of a regular nine to five.

Her enthusiasm for the new business rubbed off on him (the partner), who is passionate about web design. With her fervor for a great product and desire to run her own store, and his Internet savvy it was only a logical decision for the two to work together and develop the online accessories mega store.

Being a small business owner really motivated her. Aside from loving the product and the job, financial benefits have kept her focused. He comes from a long line of entrepreneurs, but admits his work on the website keeps him busy enough to avoid hanging out with her and her girlfriends during one of their gossip fests.

If ever a business arrangement was meant to be, their the perfect model.

Got the bug?

He Says:

He echoed her sentiments that financial benefits and the title of small business owner were motivating factors for the store's creation.

The Bags

The handbags at AccessoryBug.com are inspired by the fabulous designs of some of the fashion world's biggest players. Although they are not exact replicas, Accessory Bug bags suggest the style and sophistication of their more expensive counterparts.

Painstakingly crafted with decadently soft faux leathers and furs, anyone would be hard pressed to tell the difference. Superb stitching, high quality handles and adornments go into each bag the Accessory Bug sells.

As fickle as trends are, why waste hard earned money trying to keep up with Ms. Jones, when for a fraction of the cost you CAN BE Ms.Jones, and nobody will be the wiser.

I get by with a little help from my friends. Of course friends never pressure each other for the sake of gain. Accessory Bug knows this, and only asks that you share your opinion about our great products with your friends. They'll love you for it!

To thank you for sharing, and to thank your friend for taking your good advice, Accessory Bug will give you a $5 credit for each friend that makes a purchase. Also, your friend will receive a 10% discount on her first purchase. What could be better than that?

The Word is Out! I loved it (handbag) so much. It has leather quality, (its) soft and (it) doesn't look like (a) cheap, fake designer bag. I (will) definitely order more and pass it on to my friends. Good luck and I love your bags. -Surya

This is not the first time I've ordered from Accessory Bug...they are the BEST! I consistently receive compliments on all of their products-very high quality. -Melissa
