Read what other ASCII members are saying about Walling Data and Grisoft's AVG

“After talking with Luke and learning more about AVG, we signed up to be a reseller and sold our first small network and e-mail server versions the next day at a healthy margin! I’ve already recouped my investment and look forward to not only a better revenue stream from anti-virus sales, but most importantly, a better product and service to our clients.”

- ASCII Member: MJ Shoer, President, Jenaly Technology Group

“One of our most recent clients was a school with over 100 PCs on a peer-to-peer network. Thanks to AVG, the installation was effortless and took less than an hour to complete; had we chosen to use different anti-virus software, the installation would have taken DAYS. Plus, the auto update feature allows their network administrator to monitor and update all of the machines from one single workstation, which again, is a huge time saver. It’s a great product at an even better price.”

- ASCII Member: Jay Tipton, Vice President, Technology Specialists, Inc.

“One of the biggest benefits of the AVG Anti Virus product is that a single installation of the product will work in multiple environments. It won’t take up a lot of your system resources or slow your machine down, it’s far less costly than McAfee or Norton, and it just flat out works better than both of those products – there’s not even a comparison. The AVG product will find viruses that other anti virus programs completely overlook faster and more reliably. There is absolutely no reason why you shouldn’t install and use this program today.”

- ASCII Member: Matt Carter, President, PC MedEvac

“There are two reasons why I chose to recommend Grisoft’s AVG Product to my clients over some of the other more popular anti virus software: first, it does a great job without bogging down my clients system and requires very little maintenance, second, it is far less expensive. This allows us to sell anti virus solutions to companies that would otherwise not buy because of budget constraints. The low price also gives us a sales advantage over our competition without eating into our margins. Luke is great at giving us the support we need and is able to get products to us fast. If you are a reseller offering anti virus solutions, then you’ll certainly want to check out AVG.”

One thing that I can say is that out of all the vendors from whom I've ever purchased, Luke is probably the best and easiest to deal with. When I've had support issues, he's been there to answer questions. Ordering is simple and handled quickly and accurately. AVG as a product is great; fast, easy to manage once you get used to their management console, and pretty much bulletproof (unlike some other A/V products I've used). Frankly, if any ASCII members that sell antivirus products have NOT tried AVG and Luke's services, they're really missing something.
