

WebHostingBuzz Updates its Reseller Web Hosting Plans

An industry leader in reseller hosting, WebHostingBuzz, has announced the release of its new startup reseller hosting options along with a major update of its main reseller program.

Wilmington, DE (PRWEB) October 18, 2007 -- WebHostingBuzz.com, a leading provider of reseller hosting, has today announced its launch of startup reseller hosting. In a statement, the company said,

"We have launched startup reseller hosting to make it more affordable for people to enter the reseller hosting market. With a $5 starting price point, the ability to host up to 60 domains per package, full WebHostManager access plus our unique Free Domain for Life features".

WebHostingBuzz has been an industry leader in reseller hosting for some time now. Earlier in the year it provided the 'Free Domain for Life' deal in which customers signing up to certain deals get a domain name for free for the life time of their account. "Over 10,000 domain names have been registered as part of our Free Domain for Life program", said Safvan Malik, WebHostingBuzz CEO in a recent statement. In addition to domains, WebHostingBuzz offers free WHMAP client management licenses to all resellers.

WebHostingBuzz has also recently revamped its line of fully managed dedicated servers servers.
