A screenshot of the TrainUp.com website interface. The top navigation bar includes the TrainUp.com logo, a search bar, and a "REQUEST MORE INFORMATION" button. Below the navigation bar is a menu with categories like Training Catalog, Services, Custom/On-site, Find Jobs, Degree Programs, Training Providers, Members, About Us, and Checkout. The main content area is divided into two columns: "Browse Training by Category" with a list of categories like Human Resources Training, Information Technology Training, Business Skills Training, Health Care Training, Law Training, Finance Training, Industrial Training, and Online Training; and "Browse Training by Location" with a map of the United States and a link for courses in Canada. On the right side, there are links for "More Ways to Find Training" such as Browse Training By City, Browse Training By Title, Browse By Keyword, Browse Top Courses, and Browse New Courses. Below the main content area, there are two sections: "Custom Learning Solutions & Training Services" and "On-site Training Services: We'll send the trainer to you." The "On-site Training Services" section includes a small icon and text stating "Request in-house training and we'll send you a proposal with bids from three premier training providers ASAP, and best of all our service is FREE. The Winning Way to Find Career Training

TrainUp.com is the leading career training resource on the Web. Like familiar travel sites, TrainUp.com lets you search for training events according to your preferences, compare among providers, and register immediately. And best of all, it's FREE. There no additional registration fees plus you earn incentives, good at Best Buy and Amazon.com with every registration.

Classroom Training

You choose the training topic, location, and/or timeframe. Our database includes over 200,000 instructor-led courses from leading providers including New Horizons, Global Knowledge, SkillPath, and Fred Pryor.

Online Training

For ultimate convenience, purchase from over 5,000 online training courses from leaders such as SkillSoft, NETg, and MindLeaders. And, with TrainUp.com, you can design a best of breed solution by combining courses from multiple providers.

TrainUp.com's career training categories include:

- Human Resources
- Information Technology
- Business Skills
- Health Care
- Law
- Finance
- Industrial

Each training category includes up to 50 subcategories or you can browse specific course titles or search by keyword. If you don't find the training you need, let us do the footwork. Through our extensive Providers network, we can quickly identify resources to meet even the most specialized training needs.

The Beauty of Onsite Training

Perhaps the most under-utilized option in the career training field is custom/onsite training. For as few as three or four employees, it can be more cost-effective to bring a trainer onsite to conduct training. Onsite training can also provide these valuable benefits:

- Less time out of the office for your staff
- Consistent training for participants
- Focus on your issues of concern
- Privacy to discuss sensitive issues
- Control over training logistics
- Simultaneous training for multiple staff

Where does TrainUp.com fit in? Through our extensive Provider network, we can effectively identify the best training resources to meet your needs. Upon your request, we will obtain bids from at least three training providers that are subject matter experts and experienced in training on your issues. Then, we will coordinate your event with the trainer you select. Best of all, we provide our services FREE to you.

Still not sure? Consider these recent projects completed for TrainUp clients:

30 staffpersons in the ship repair industry received training on Microsoft® Project

21 participants from the U.S. Navy attended a 5-day bootcamp on the use of ASP.NET

25 students in the healthcare industry learned about communicating and supervision

40 students in the financial sector received management training

50 employees of a grocery retailer learned how to use Microsoft® Office 2003

Custom LMS Technology that's a Knock-Out

If you need to manage, deliver, assess, and track training for your organization, consider a custom Learning Management System (LMS) from TrainUp.com.

Unlike costly commercial products, our solutions are built on a flexible core that can be quickly and effectively customized to meet your needs at a fraction of the cost. Our core solution includes elements for learning and employee management, course authoring, survey and assessment building, Webinar integration, performance management, event scheduling, content and document management, and continuous online training and reporting. The result is:

- A custom-built solution at an “out of the box” price
- An LMS that meets your exact specifications, requirements, and integration needs
- A timely implementation that can be expanded as your needs change

Let TrainUp.com provide the proof you need. Contact us today for a complimentary, no obligation consultation on your LMS needs and how we can help.
