The Fast Track To Your Flight Attendant Career!

Dear Future Flight Attendant,

Only 5 - 10% of all airline applicants get the flight attendant job, one of the most coveted jobs in the world. By attending our course, you will have taken an important step to arm yourself with the proper tools and eliminate much of the stress of interviewing and training, making it a successful and fun experience.

PLEASE BEWARE of programs that go for several weeks or months, charge you thousands of dollars and teach you things you do not need in order to become a flight attendant – you don't need to learn travel agent things like making airline reservations to be a flight attendant! Our state-of-the-art program is cost effective, well-rounded and is absolutely the only training you will ever need to obtain a flight attendant career. And our instructors have real airline flight attendant experience – they are not travel agents!

We can greatly increase your chances of success by teaching you good interviewing skills, safety training and placement with an airline. We are the premier flight attendant training program. Things that set us apart from other programs are:

- We actually meet, practice with you and video tape you in mock interviews.
- Airline recruiters come here to recruit right from the class.
- Excellent pass rate.
- Airlines are looking for flight attendants!

Thank you again for your interest. We are excited about meeting and working with you. Please call us at 407-678-3710 if you have any questions or if you would like to enroll in one of our classes, and we will get Part 1 of your home study manual to you right away.

Sincerely,

Wendy Stafford

HERE'S HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS:

Our course is equal to approximately 64 hours and the first 30 hours of that is distance learning at home. Before you meet with us, you will receive a study guide containing flight attendant safety rules and procedures that will help you pass the challenging initial airline training. There is a lot of material to learn, so you will need to study thoroughly.

The first day of class, we will thoroughly review with you the information you have been studying and test you on it; your test score will be sent to the airlines as part of your referral, so it's important that you study well! The rest of the class time is spent helping prepare you for the interview and the job. We will practice with you and video tape you twice to help you develop your potential; we're right there beside you all the way. Upon graduation you will receive our certificate and we continue to work with you after you leave class, assisting you with setting up interviews and referring you to airlines.

TOPICS COVERED IN CLASS:

- FARs
- 24-Hour Clock
- Decompression
- First Aid

ENDORSEMENTS:

I have been hired by two major airlines and I owe it all to Flight Attendant Express. I took the seminar and they were very helpful in giving me all the pertinent information that was required.

Margarita A Lavezzo
ATA

Dear Flight Attendant Express:

I cannot thank you enough for the valuable training and knowledge I received from your training course. Thanks to you, Wendy, and your valuable seminar, I have been able to pursue and acquire my dream job as a flight attendant with a major airline. I interviewed with Jetblue Airways March 18, 2004 and started my training on April 14, 2004!! I have been happily flying ever since. I love this job. It is the best job in the world! Thanks to you, I became the flight attendant that I had always dreamed about being. Hopefully, soon I will be flying with other new flight attendants that have traveled through your course. Thanks again.

Gail Bohannon
JetBlue Airways Corporation

I would highly recommend for all future flight attendants to take the Flight Attendant Express course. The reason is straightforward; you have a competitive edge on the recruitment process. When an open house attracts over 250 applicants and only 25 openings, where do you fit in? I have attended many open houses where an overwhelming amount of furloughed flight attendants and applicants with no experience at all are competing for the same job.

Wendy Stafford assesses your strengths and weaknesses and builds your interviewing skills to ensure you have prerequisites for what those recruiters are looking in a candidate. It is also imperative that this course goes above and beyond any book published out there. The ingredient is in the human interface and visual perception that the course provides. That is worth the investment in your future career, for a job you will love to come to work for everyday!

Sincerely,
Maureen Cecilia Weaver

If you want to work for a United States airline you must be either be a U.S. citizen or be authorized to work legally in the U.S. without sponsorship, and must have unrestricted multiple entry into and out of the U.S. I have included a link to the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization website:

One important variable is the ability to effectively communicate in English if you work for a United States airline. Flight attendants must deal with emergency situations in which effective communication is imperative. There are times when instructions must be given to customers and it is very important for you to clearly understand the customers as well. The following information was taken from the websites of several different airlines, and you can see how this is an important requirement. Flight attendants:

- Must be aware of hazardous situations and be able to provide a Leadership role in emergencies as needed.
- Must have excellent verbal communications and interpersonal skills.
- Must have the ability to read, write, speak, and understand the English language.
- Are required to successfully complete pre-employment physical examination that reveals no physical or mental limitations that would impair ability to perform routine or emergency job duties.
