

John Mehrmann Awarded Continental Who's Who Registry Premier Membership

John Mehrmann, author and leading authority on human capital development, has been awarded a lifetime Premier Membership in the Continental Who's Who Registry of national business leaders. The Continental Who's Who Registry features influential executives and officials in business, science, education, finance, law, government and many other fields.

New York, NY (PRWeb) November 6, 2007 -- Accomplished author, sought after speaker and coveted consultant John Mehrmann receives recognition from his peers by inclusion in the 2007 edition of the Continental Who's Who Registry of National Business Leaders.

The Continental Who's Who Registry of National Business Leaders acknowledges people for individual achievements, and who are influential within their own organization or industry. The men and women represent every important field of endeavor. Included are executives and officials in business, science, education, philanthropy, religion, government, the fourth estate, finance, law, engineering and many other fields. Members are placed in a directory in their area of specialty among peers and colleagues with current and accurate biographical data on some of the most prolific business professionals in the world. Continental Who's Who is distributed exclusively to the men and women listed in the publication throughout the Continental United States. Continental Who's Who features a very extensive variety of companies, professionals and business.

The Continental Who's Who Commitment to Excellence is exemplified by a promise of the highest quality service to the members. Continental Who's Who occupies an important place in the Who's Who marketplace. Continental Who's Who is national recognition of each member as a leader in the field of expertise, and a valuable third party endorsement.

"It is a very humbling experience to find myself included in such a prestigious group of business leaders," said John Mehrmann. "I am honored to have such a rare opportunity, and will endeavor to serve the member community with dedication and well deserved respect."

John Mehrmann is President of Executive Blueprints, an organization dedicated to the continuous development of talent and human capital. John is a member of the International Coach Federation and participated in the Global Leadership Forum. He previously served as a member on the California Department of Consumer Affairs Bureau of Electronic and Appliance Repairs Advisory Council, and a term as Industry Information Director for the National Electronics Service Dealers Association (NESDA). John Mehrmann has received recognition in the International Who's Who of Business Leaders, and the Sterling Who's Who Directory-Executive Edition. John received the Certificate of Recognition and Industry Achievement Award Honors, the NPSC Award of Appreciation and the USA Certificate of Appreciation for the Institute of Service Management.

With more than 20 years in global organizations, John Mehrmann's experience spans logistics, operations, e-commerce, finance, customer relations, marketing, training and consulting. John has held positions as Regional Sales Director for Data Exchange Corporation, Director of Service Operations for Toshiba America Information Systems, Inc, and management roles at Toshiba Imaging Systems Division, Toshiba America Consumer Products and SatisFusion.

John Mehrmann is a prolific author. His work "Stress and Stones" was featured in "101 Great Ways to Improve

Your Life, Volume 3", a book containing articles from such renowned authors as Marc Victor Hansen, Byron Katie, Les Brown and Ken Blanchard. John's articles have appeared in a variety of magazine publications, including Pros Communications, Reverse Logistics Magazine and Essentially Women. Inspirational, motivational and educational articles are available for free copy and distribution from the Executive Blueprints web site.

"Knowledge has no merit until it is shared," said John Mehrmann. "We make many articles and tutorials freely available for distribution, print and part of a package provided it contains appropriate acknowledgment to Executive Blueprints and the author. It is always a pleasant surprise to see an article used in a local publication, newsletter or web site. It means that the information has some special meaning for someone, and that is when it really has value."
