

Mediatrix Telecom and NETXUSA Announce Distribution Partnership for its Award-Winning line of VoIP Access Devices

NETXUSA to build momentum in North America for Mediatrix Next Generation VoIP Technologies

Sherbrooke, QUEBEC and Greenville, South Carolina, January 23, 2008 – Mediatrix Telecom, the leader in Voice over Internet Protocol (VoIP) access devices and gateways, announced today that the Mediatrix Channel Partner Network has expanded with the addition of NETXUSA as its new Master Distributor for the North American marketplace.

Effective immediately, NETXUSA will begin distributing the complete line of Mediatrix VoIP gateways and access devices to its entire growing base of Value Added Resellers (VARs) and On-line Partners in North America. This Master Distribution Agreement enables our channel partners to receive enhanced, comprehensive and single contact support for all Mediatrix solutions through NETXUSA.

"The Mediatrix solution offers a wide range of advanced technology combined with user friendly features that are required in today's VoIP environment," said Rick Boone, President of NETXUSA. "We have built our company and reputation on unparalleled service coupled with a tremendous depth of knowledge in the Telephony market. With a proven product line from Mediatrix and NETXUSA's distribution experience, you have a win-win scenario for our channel partners."

"Our commitment to increasing the strength of our channels as a key element of our sales efforts is critical to Mediatrix's continued success," said Marco Raimo, Senior Channel Manager at Mediatrix. "We are very fortunate to have an experienced and well-connected partner in the telecommunications sector like NETXUSA to help us grow in the North American marketplace."
