2007 Africana Homestead Short Story Contest

The 2007 Africana Homestead Short Story Contest is sponsored by Africana Homestead Legacy Publishers (AHLP). In 2004 we established this contest to support amateur poets in New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Delaware and to honor the legacy of African Americans and recent black immigrants who live in those states. In 2005 we opened the contest to residents of all 50 States and the territories of the United States of America.

In each category we will present: 1.) a cash prize (a check or debit card) and engraved award to first, second, and third place winners; 2) a certificate for honorable mention. We will publish the entries of the winners and those who earn honorable mention in our annual serial monograph, Visions of Black Life: A collection of Outstanding Short Stories and Poetry, Volume 4, in 2008. AHLP and contest entry fees will fund the prizes. Each winner may earn only one major prize. If a winner has more than one submission, they may earn honorable mention for another entry. AHLP solely funds the publication and will give the winners three royalty-free copies.
