SCRIBE SOFTWARE RELEASES ADAPTER 4.0 FOR MICROSOFT DYNAMICS
CRM 4.0

Strengthens Microsoft's "power of choice" by offering integration capabilities to both on-premise and CRM Live customers

BEDFORD, NH – February 27, 2008 – Scribe Software, a provider of configurable data integration and migration software technology for leading business applications, today announced its release of the Scribe Adapter 4.0 for Microsoft Dynamics CRM 4.0. This adapter supports a customer's ability to choose the deployment that best fits their organization by offering the full breadth of migration and integration capabilities for both on-premise and SaaS deployments of Microsoft Dynamics CRM 4.0.

Implemented at thousands of Dynamics CRM customers, by hundreds of Scribe Certified Resellers, Scribe's integration tool, Scribe Insight, has been the gold standard for migrating and integrating all important customer data within a company's CRM environment. The Scribe Adapter for Microsoft Dynamics CRM 4.0, built on the latest Microsoft Dynamics CRM API, supports the multi-organization capabilities now available to customers with Microsoft Dynamics CRM 4.0.

"With this release, Scribe continues to demonstrate its firm commitment to customers of Dynamics CRM", explains Bob Peskin, MSCRM Practice Director at Infinity Info Systems, an Elite Reseller for Scribe Insight. "Dynamics CRM 4.0, with its multi-tenant architecture and availability as a true SAAS application with CRM Live, represents significant innovation with which Scribe has remained in lock-step. This greatly benefits both our existing customers who can immediately upgrade to the latest Dynamics CRM products as well as our new customers who can realize the benefits of Scribe's world-class integration technology."

“Whether customers choose an on-premise, partner-hosted or CRM Live deployment, they can use the Scribe Adapter 4.0 for Microsoft Dynamics CRM 4.0 to quickly migrate and integrate critical customer data” explained Mark Walker, Director, Product Management, Scribe Software. “Even more important for customers, is that this adapter offers seamless portability should they choose to move to one of the other deployment options available with Microsoft Dynamics CRM 4.0.”
