

UGALLERY AT ART NOW FAIR

March 27th - 30th, 2008

Hotel 30/30, 30 East 30th Street, New York City

Room # 200

Exhibition curated by Lisa Hunter, art lecturer and author of The Intrepid Art Collector: The Beginner's Guide to Finding, Buying, and Appreciating Art on a Budget.

“Ugallery showcases emerging artists at a critical point in their development, when they begin to move past their academic training to create a unique, personal style. The artists we are exhibiting at Art Now Fair are all university art students or recent graduates, mostly from the New York City area. The Ugallery booth is thus an early peek at the directions talented young New York artists are taking.

Interestingly, most of the artists’ work we have selected fits into either an urban or rural theme. Students typically live someplace other than “home,” and this experience makes them see both their new and old environments in a fresh way. On a thematic level, their work examines the larger question of how humans fit into – or fail to fit into – both the natural world and the very unnatural urban environment.”
