JS-Kit creates Internet tools, which make it possible for developers to run a dynamic, interactive site with community features (backed up by the fully functional commenting system), ratings, polls, reviews and better -easier site navigation. Insertion of a single line of HTML will make any site the height of Web 2.0. There is no registration required, and the widgets are fully customizable and free for the ordinary web users.

THC partnered with JS-Kit to distribute even more value to its users and site visitors. Customers can rate and review openly the hosting services they purchase and even exchange information with other users in real time. THC also benefits from this new addition to the network, by gathering important user feedback. In the THC – JS-Kit agreement the two companies also stated the possibility that THC will assist JS-Kit in the future with hosting and related tech support.

2007 Success

Rudolf – a web hosting plan with a lifetime of value

This was the promotional plan that made THC the most popular hosting company among bloggers and small website owners. The plan featured professional web hosting with 250 GB disk space, 3000 GB bandwidth, full features (unlimited MySQL, ftp, email, etc) and a free domain for as long as the customer remained a THC client – all for a flat $ 95 fee.

The offer, limited at 1000 plans, is now closed for the season.

Company

About:

Founded in Montreal, Canada by Eric Vanier, Top Hosting Center is a branch of Proweb Consultants Inc. The webhosting services were launched officially in September 2007 and gained fast popularity due to its new approach to the industry. On the launch the company boldly declared that it will match any competitor's pricing on any Web hosting plan or dedicated server package – and it kept its promise ever since. The 2007 success – Rudolf web hosting for life – is one of the proofs.

THC is a privately held company that adheres to the Web 2.0 principles of collaboration while providing Web 3.0 support, speed, stability and quality.

Mission:

CEO and founder Eric Vanier started the company in 2001 with a vision for a new kind of hosting service for everyday people. THC is an affordable service focused on reliability, dedication to customer's and state-of-the art hosting technologies. Quality web hosting has never been more economical or user friendly - THC intends to lead the way in engaging our customer's needs.

Vision:

“Will match any competitor's pricing on any Web hosting plan!”
