BCS ProSoft Announces Perspectives 2008 User Conference for Sage MAS 90, Sage MAS 200, and Automated Rental Management Users

San Antonio, TX—March 11, 2008—BCS ProSoft today announced Perspectives 2008, Bright Ideas for Business, its biennial Sage MAS 90, Sage MAS 200, and Automated Rental Management (ARM) user conference, will be held in San Antonio on April 24-25, 2008. Keynote speakers for the event include Himanshu Palsule, executive vice president and general manager of Sage Software's Business Management Division, Rob Johnson, senior director of partner programs for Sage Software, and several other distinguished professionals.

In addition to the keynote speakers, Perspectives 2008 promises to provide a rich learning environment, including 32 interactive workshops, product demonstrations, and open discussions on how users can obtain the most value from their Sage MAS 90, Sage MAS 200, and ARM investment.

"Perspectives 2008 offers a unique opportunity for attendees to connect with other Sage MAS 90 and ARM users and exchange ideas, see the latest advances in Sage MAS 90 and Automated Rental Management, and learn about methods, tools, and products to increase their utilization of these solutions," said Clark Haley, president of BCS ProSoft. "In addition, attendees will hear from leading industry professionals and meet the BCS ProSoft people who stand behind these products."

Attendees can choose one of four tracks to attend, depending upon their role and/or interests. The Owner/CEO track includes workshops covering project management, marketing, building customer loyalty, reducing technology cost, and healthcare coverage concerns. The ARM track offers workshops focusing on cash drawer and POS features in ARM, rental fleet utilization, advanced features and data structures, proactive management with KnowledgeSync, and roundtable conversations. The Sage MAS 90 track workshops include: paperless document management, importing data, tips and tricks, custom office, and roundtable conversations. The Productivity track includes workshops on the following topics: CRM and accounting integration, HR rules and regulations, bar coding, EDI, and integrated job and field service management.

The conference price is $495 per attendee. An early registration discount of $50 per attendee is available through March 28, 2008. When two attendees from the same company register, the owner/CEO can attend the conference free. Full conference details, including hotel registration information can be obtained at the BCS ProSoft on-line registration site, www.bcsprosoft.com/events.
