

Company Overview

Lavasoft is not just another anti-spyware company; it is the original anti-spyware company. Since 1999 when Lavasoft first launched its Ad-Aware flagship product, it has received countless awards and recognition from highly respected IT organizations. With 300 million Ad-Aware downloads around the world, Lavasoft remains an anti-spyware leader, continuously setting the benchmark for all other security companies in the industry.

As serious threats against corporate and personal privacy continue to grow and intensify on the global market, Lavasoft continues to expand the resources necessary to deliver the high-quality products and service expected by our customers. Our experienced R & D Team ensures that the Lavasoft product line remains a leader among the competition. In addition, the specialized Lavasoft Security Center is dedicated to identifying new spyware/malware threats to provide continuous updates that secure our customer's privacy.

Lavasoft Security Center

Lavasoft was founded on the ideals of consumer reporting, ethical advertising, and social change. And we continue to operate on those principles today. Unlike most of our competitors, Lavasoft is not only committed to cleaning up and blocking spyware from your computer system, we are also committed to creating long-term social change by working with the spyware industry to improve their processes.

Our experts at the Lavasoft Security Center monitor and analyze the spyware industry to identify new spyware/malware definitions and threats, and quickly distribute that information to our customers to provide excellent protection against spyware/malware infections. The Lavasoft security analysts also work directly with the authors and distributors of spyware and malware, giving them the opportunity to change from 'bad guys' to 'good guys' by making acceptable improvements to their spyware.

Customers

Lavasoft products protect the privacy of all computer users including home consumers, small- and medium-sized businesses, corporations with extensive IT networks, schools, government offices, non-profit organizations and OEMs.
