

Tuition Express – fully automated and integrated – point of sale, credit card swipe capability is just around the corner.

Almost before you can say, “May I have your credit card, please?”, ProCare Software will offer fully automated and integrated credit card swipe capability to Tuition Express users across the country.

Four years and over half a billion dollars in transactions has made Tuition Express the easiest, safest, most efficient way to process payments – and it’s about to get better.

Tuition Express users will swipe credit cards from drop-in customers and have the payment post automatically to their ProCare system. When a customer comes in to make a one time purchase; swipe their credit card and be done with it. When a new client makes a preregistration or initial payment, Tuition Express users will swipe the card, get an approval and have the payment automatically posted – all in the time it takes to hand the card back to the customer.

Tuition Express users have been reaping the benefits of ACH and reoccurring credit card transactions for four years. With the addition of card-swipe capability, Tuition Express is your complete payment processing solution.
