Mind Over Machines an Authorized Partner for Sage MAS 500 and Accellos (formerly Radio Beacon)

Sage Software Authorized Partner strengthens offering with solutions for enterprise manufacturers and distributors.

Austin, TX—April 24, 2008—Mind Over Machines today announced the company is now authorized to sell, implement, and support the Sage MAS 500 ERP product line and the Accellos Warehouse Management System (WMS) solution. The new offerings allow Mind Over Machines to deliver comprehensive manufacturing and distribution solutions to small to mid-sized enterprise companies.

“Adding the Sage MAS 500 and Accellos product lines to our offerings is a strategic move for us that will have definitive benefits for our clients,” said Lloyd Smith, president of Mind Over Machines. “The expansion of our product offerings allows us to reach companies and industries seeking enterprise manufacturing and distribution solutions based on market-leading architecture. We already enjoy a strong, long-standing relationship with Sage Software, so Sage MAS 500 is a natural extension for us.”

Sage MAS 500 is a complete enterprise management solution, including a core of unmatched financial accounting software, plus integrated business intelligence, order processing, distribution, and manufacturing components. Accellos (formerly Radio Beacon) integrates with several ERP solutions, including Sage MAS 500 and Sage Accpac ERP, delivering sophisticated warehouse management tools including radio frequency picking and receiving, smart routing, advanced replenishment, and Web dispatch.

“We are very excited to have Mind Over Machines join the Sage MAS 500 reseller program at Sage Software,” said Angela Thomas, regional sales manager at Sage Software. “Their background as an ERP solution provider and their extensive expertise in solving business issues through the use of technology will add a tremendous strength to our program in Texas. In the time I’ve worked with the team at Mind Over Machines, I’ve been impressed with their commitment and attention to customer satisfaction. It’s a pleasure to welcome them to the Sage MAS 500 family!”

“We are pleased to welcome Mind Over Machines to the Accellos family,” said Joel Kremke, chief operating officer for Accellos. “Mind Over Machines holds a leadership position in the market for manufacturing and distribution solutions on the Sage MAS 500 and Sage Accpac ERP platforms. They have well established relationships within the verticals they serve. We look forward to working together to help bring innovative and cost-effective warehouse management solutions to Sage MAS 500 users.”
