

aLoveLinksPlus.com Announces New Recommended Online Dating Services

aLoveLinksPlus.com has been reviewing online dating services since 1999 and is proud to recommend these newly reviewed dating services and announce two new contests.

Vancouver, BC, Canada (PRWEB) June 11 2008 – aLoveLinksPlus.com, a leader in the online dating industry, is proud to announce recommendations of dating services that have been recently reviewed:

KissNdate.com

SomeoneNew.com

YouLoveMe.com

LotsofLoves.com

DatingforParents.com

MeetYouLater.com

ConnectingSingles.com

NYMinuteDating.com

Soulmades.com.au

Robert Lee says "With the net-wide move to free dating services that generate their revenue not from membership subscription but from website advertising aLoveLinksPlus.com becomes an even more relevant source of finding a suitable online dating service for singles to use.

"We have found that many new dating services are over-exposing ads and creating a hostile environment that turns off many people that would otherwise use an online dating service. The main focus of a useable web-based dating service becomes harder and harder to find.

"In our rushed society there is a 'time-famine', a real lack of time for many people that rely on technology to smooth out their hurried lives. Wasting time at a badly designed and almost non-functional dating service is a sacrifice that most single people don't want to make. And yet, joining any of the top ten dating services creates a glut of possible matches that makes finding love online an almost impossible task.

"aLoveLinksPlus.com is always vigilant in our reviews and strive to recommend only the best of online dating services to our visitors whether they be in a general population format or a specialized dating niche that we are seeing more of every day."

Richard of NY Minute Dating says "We are thrilled to be recommended by aLoveLinksPlus.com. NY Minute Dating works hard to organize exciting singles events that help singles find love and friendship. With our inclusion in aLoveLinksPlus.com we will be able to help more people find a partner through speed dating events."

Leo of YouLoveMe.com says "aLoveLinksplus.com is the dating industry's best source of dating site reviews. You can compare them to consumer reports but only for dating sites and we are very appreciative to be included as a recommended dating service."

You Love Me (www.youloveme.com)
