

NTD Telecommunications Celebrates 44 Years In Business

NTD is a major provider of telephones and devices for the hearing impaired; a supplier of Plantronics, Panasonic and a provider of telecommunication devices for business and home phone systems.

Lynnwood, WA (PRWeb) June 12, 2008 -- Since 1964 NTD Telecommunications has been a leader in the communications industry. NTD has a reputation for providing the highest quality of products and customer service in the industry.

NTD Telecommunications had its humble beginnings 44 years ago in Seattle, Washington. Its founder, Bill Nosworthy was working nights for Great Northern Railway and selling the latest in "reel to reel" telephone answering machines during the day.

When deregulation of the phone companies was enacted, NTD began to provide telephone installers with business phone systems and related devices. Over the last 10-15 years NTD expanded into the Internet market place and has played a large role in providing consultation services and communication devices for the general public.

"Our mission is to help increase productivity for our customers and over all to enhance their telephone experience. For example, with the advent of the wireless office headset from Plantronics, studies have shown productivity increases of 40%," said Bill Nosworthy, President of NTD Telecommunications. "Who would have believed 44 years ago the advancements in communications technology we take for granted today."

NTD has enjoyed considerable growth in the last few years in the cell phone, and "hands free" headsets market due to new laws governing the use of cell phones while driving a motor vehicle.

"What is gratifying to me is the contribution NTD and Mr. Nosworthy have made to the hearing impaired customer; NTD has been a major provider of telephones and other devices for the hearing impaired; devices that have really improved their quality of life," said Loren Timmons, Director of Sales and Marketing at NTD Telecommunications. "It is also interesting to see the shift from an older population to a much younger population requiring hearing amplified telephones."

Mr. Nosworthy concluded, "My wife Elsie told me to always remember that no one cares how much you know, until they know how much you care, and we care about customers; if they are not pleased with our products and service, we'll make it right...Guaranteed."
