CodePartners Connects with Businesses at Sage Software Insights Conference

Dallas, TX – June 20, 2008 – CodePartners, a software development services firm, had the opportunity to connect with Sage Software’s reselling partners at Sage’s annual reseller conference, Insights. Insights was held May 12-15, 2008 at the Gaylord National Resort and Convention Center in National Harbor, Maryland.

As the hotel room key sponsor, attendees had immediate exposure to CodePartners. Additionally, CodePartners was a co-sponsor of the conference bag, which all attendees received upon on-site conference registration.

“We appreciated the opportunity to meet with CodePartners at Insights,” said David Cieslak, Principal of Arxis Technology, a Simi Valley, CA-based Sage business partner. “We use CodePartners’ resources to enhance the solutions we offer our clients. Oftentimes, just a small change needs to be made to ensure a tailored fit and CodePartners is there to help us. They are a valuable resource for us.”

“Insights is a wonderful opportunity for us to connect with the Sage Software business partner community,” said Brian Terrell, CPA and founder of CodePartners. “We also use it as a way to gather feedback for ideas for future products and services.”

Insights hosted more than 3,000 attendees from across the globe. Attendees had the opportunity to hear about future product strategy while ample time was provided for networking and idea sharing.
