Local Expert Helps Struggling Families
Transform Their Debt into Wealth with
“The Economic Problem Prevention Audit Challenge”

Hauppauge, NY — Billy Alvaro announced today a large investment in increased education for struggling New Yorkers who want to stop living paycheck to paycheck & transform their debt into wealth, with The Economic Problem Prevention Audit Challenge.

Cash strapped New Yorkers who are accepted for the CHALLENGE will undergo a financial transformation over 37 ½ days. In addition, they will receive ongoing wealth coaching to ensure they meet their future financial goals.

“This ensures potential clients stay on track, enabling them to not only survive, but thrive during these tough economic times” said Alvaro.

The Economic Problem Prevention Audit challenge will by and large give financial relief to New Yorkers who want it most. It was designed for middle class folks who don’t have a grasp on their money, and don’t know where to turn for advice.

“Middle Class Americans are struggling to make ends meet. The rising cost of fuel has increased everything. Except for their income” said Alvaro “and the Economic Problem Prevention Audit Challenge will change that.”

Prior to Billy Alvaro’s work with the Billy Alvaro Group & The Center for Homeowner Awareness, Alvaro was the Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of a national mortgage bank and has consulted for many businesses on how to increase profits in a declining market.

Billy Alvaro and his group of companies have helped over 11,127 families since 1996.
