

aLoveLinksPlus.com Announces New Recommended Online Dating Services

aLoveLinksPlus.com has been reviewing online dating services since 1999 and is proud to recommend these newly reviewed dating services and announce two new contests.

Vancouver, BC, Canada (PRWEB) July 9 2008 – aLoveLinksPlus.com, a leader in the online dating industry, is proud to announce recommendations of dating services that have been recently reviewed:

RadarDating.com

MyBabyBe.com

Cupid-Shuffle.com

HeartDetectives.com

Robert Lee says "With the increase in "White Label" dating services we've seen over through the first part of this year it becomes harder to distinguish unique dating opportunities for many singles. If you were to join three different dating services and they all had the same members you wouldn't be achieving your goals of finding compatible singles very well.

"aLoveLinksPlus.com reviewers keep a close watch that these services, no matter what brand name they display, and are only reviewed once to lessen the confusion that may happen otherwise.

"aLoveLinksPlus.com also features relationship and dating advice articles for men and women for the various stages of relationships and singledom they may find themselves in and we are happy to announce the addition of David Wygant's articles for men and women to our web site."

aLoveLinksPlus.com is proud to announce two contests in July that feature exciting prizes:

1. "Where singles click" Lavalife.com contest – 3 winners will each receive a three month Lavalife paid membership
2. The World's Most Active Dating Service HeartDectectives.com contest – July 18 to September 12 2008 is the contest entry period to win 3 lifetime memberships.
