

Abso® Announces New Features in Talent Edition™ Applicant Tracking Solution

Roseville, CA (PRWEB) October 1, 2008 -- New features in Abso's® talent management solution — Talent Edition™, make it easier than ever to streamline the hiring process. This web-based HR software already enables human resources managers to work more quickly and easily by integrating tasks for acquiring, screening, assessing, and onboarding job applicants. New features released this month deliver more control and search capabilities, enhanced assessment services, and improved integration with other corporate information services.

Each improvement delivers more flexibility and functionality for Abso Talent Edition users. Specifically in this release, users can now search and change accounts more easily and customize password settings for individual applicants. Expense report improvements help HR sort and analyze data in new ways. Through their partnership with PeopleClues and ReliantLive, Abso now offers customizable assessment portals and intelligent search features that help HR search scores and view easy-to-read summaries. New functionality enables employee data to be exported to XRMXL and character delimited files. The new export improvements also allow for automated integration with HRIS web services and scheduled FTP exports.

"In a time of increasing pressure on an HR, we are focused on bringing our clients a service that is valuable and efficient." said David Dickson, VP, Market Operations at Abso. "This release continues our commitment to improving our customer's productivity and employee retention within their organizations."

Talent Edition is used by HR departments in large and small companies to dramatically improve hiring process efficiency, enabling them to hire the best candidates more quickly. Find out more at www.abso.com.
