

The Financial Benefits of Choosing Allsup SSDI Representation

More than 1.4 million people are waiting to learn if they will receive their Social Security Disability Insurance (SSDI) award. Newcomers to the complex and cumbersome SSDI application process may not be fully aware of their options when seeking help or the average length of time to receive benefits, which can typically take two to four years.

First and foremost, we understand the monetary strain a disability can have on your finances. We know you've worked hard over the years and would like to preserve your savings. We know you want to continue to receive a monthly income even though your medical condition prevents you from working. Allsup focuses on obtaining your award at the earliest possible level and as quickly as possible to secure your long-term financial benefits.

One-Time Fee with No Extra Costs

The fee for SSDI representation by any organization—such as Allsup or an attorney—is determined by the SSA and is a one-time percentage of any retroactive benefits you are due. Currently, under the SSA's fee agreement approval process, it is 25 percent of the retroactive dollar amount awarded, not to exceed $5,300. Allsup only charges a one-time fee if your claim is approved, so we get paid only if you get awarded. There are no other fees and we do not charge for expenses such as travel or for collecting medical records as other organizations might.

Visit us at www.allsup.com or call (800) 279-4357.

Example (see box below): If you're awarded a $1,000 monthly benefit and the award is retroactive 10 months ($10,000), your representation fee would be $2,500 (25 percent x $10,000).

Example: If you're awarded a $1,000 monthly benefit and it takes 42 months to receive your benefit, your representation fee would be capped at $5,300 on the $42,000 retroactive award rather than $10,500 (25 percent x $42,000).

Below is a sample calculation of how small Allsup's fee is compared to the long-term financial benefits you may receive.

Client:	Alex
Age:	42
Award Received:	10 months after becoming eligible
Monthly Benefit:	$1,000
Retroactive Benefits Received:	$10,000 (10 months x $1,000)
One-Time Allsup Fee:	$2,500 (25% x $10,000)
Immediate Client Income:	$7,500
Future Annual Benefits:	$12,000 (plus any cost-of-living increases)

Once the initial award is made, regular monthly benefits begin.

Ongoing benefits with an annual benefit of $12,000 a year:

10 years = $120,000 + cost-of-living increases

20 years = $240,000 + cost-of-living increase

30 years = $360,000 + cost-of-living increases

In addition to financial benefits, there are many other advantages for considering Allsup, including:

High Success Rate

Allsup consistently gains SSDI awards for its clients. Our 97 percent award rate for all clients who complete the SSDI process with us far exceeds the national average of those applying for Social Security disability benefits without professional representation.

Specialization in the Industry

Allsup employs multiple claims representatives and specialists who are experts in handling SSDI claims in local communities across the country. Other types of paid representatives such as law firms may or may not have attorneys dedicated solely to SSDI claims.

Knowledge and Experience

Our expert claims representatives specialize in SSDI and understand the complexities and nuances of the process. Allsup's expertise is evident in its 24-year history and a knowledgeable staff that has accumulated decades of experience working with the Social Security Administration (SSA). During this time, we have helped more than 100,000 people with disabilities receive their entitled SSDI benefits.

Understanding your Disability

The SSA has specific disability impairment criteria for hundreds of medical conditions. Allsup representatives are experienced in working with a variety of disabilities and knowledgeable about the impairment criteria to prepare each case with details and in the language required by the SSA to avoid unnecessary delays, a reduced award or denial of benefits.

Regular Status Updates

Your Allsup claims representative will monitor the status of your claim and keep you informed on a regular basis. We'll update you on the progress of your application, including timely notices of impending deadlines, scheduled hearings, or when to submit additional documents.

Guidance throughout the Process

Allsup accepts clients at all claim levels throughout the SSDI process. We complete all forms and gather relevant medical records and data from your healthcare professionals to remove the burden from you. Our award rates are higher than the national average, including both the initial application and reconsideration phases. This means more people who appoint Allsup receive their awards quicker and may avoid attending a hearing or having their case go to the Appeals Council.

Representation at Local Hearings

Approximately one-quarter of SSDI cases proceed to the hearing level, which is when the claim comes before an administrative law judge (ALJ). If your claim does reach this level, Allsup has experts located across the country who will personally represent you at local hearings. However, more than 70 percent of our clients never even have to attend a hearing because we obtain a favorable on-the-record decision from the ALJ.

Electronic Filing

Allsup utilizes electronic filing whenever possible to improve the chance of a timely response. We will complete all Social Security forms for you—whether electronically, by phone and/or mail.

Overall, by choosing Allsup as your SSDI representative, you are increasing your chances for success. Clients who choose Allsup usually get their award faster. It's important to remember that the faster you can get through the SSDI process, the sooner you will receive regular monthly income and be able to take advantage of the benefits you deserve. That's the Allsup advantage.

Visit us at www.allsup.com or call (800) 279-4357.

