

THE Responsibility PROJECT

Liberty Mutual.

Responsibility. What's your policy?

WHAT IS RESPONSIBILITY?

Read how other people define it.

"Always doing what is right even when it is the harder path to follow."

"Being considerate of others and obeying the laws."

"Educating yourself."

The Responsibility Project, created by Liberty Mutual, uses shorts films, online content and television programming to get people talking about personal responsibility and the decisions that confront people trying to "do the right thing." Individuals can join the conversation about personal responsibility and watch live-action and animated film shorts at the project's online community:

Growing Up

It's remarkable what children can learn from us. It's even more remarkable what we can learn from them.

Mandy & Lester

Cookies will fall. A hero will rise.

Lighthouse

A lighthouse keeper's darkest hour turns out to be anything but.

Table Guardians

An ordinary morning. An ordinary coffee shop. An extraordinary group of strangers.

Father's Day

They say time heals all wounds. But what if all you have are weeks?

Transit

A man is just another passenger on a bus until he comes face to face with a thief. And a choice.

THE BLOG

Provocative articles and stories about responsibility.

The Responsibility Project Index: Who Is Responsible?

Half of all Americans cannot name a responsible celebrity or business leader.

Going Green: Who Pays?

Where does personal responsibility end and business responsibility begin when it comes to helping the environment?

Needing Questions: Immunizing Kids

When it comes to vaccinations, do parents have a responsibility beyond their own children?
