

OPTIMAL DIGESTION = OPTIMAL NUTRITION = PEAK PERFORMANCE!

ENHANCED PROTEIN & NUTRIENT ABSORPTION MAXIMIZED HYDRATION

Your performance dog has unique nutritional needs. High energy demands high protein, nutrients and increased hydration. A crucial factor in providing the right nutrition is optimized digestion, the key to absorbing nutrients and maintaining optimal hydration levels. Enhanced nutrient and protein absorption assists them to start strong and stay strong through endurance activities. Excellent muscle structure and tone provide the extra lift for high jumps and long runs. Optimal nutrient assimilation feeds brain cells for superb alertness and mental acuity. All systems benefit when they've got "THE EDGE!"

ENHANCED HEALTH, IMMUNE DEFENSE

Sporting dogs live to run and work, but the nature of their active life puts extra stress on the system. Without the proper fuel to keep the system in balance, the immune system becomes weakened and an opening for illness and disease is created. The active ingredients in The Edge gear up the digestive tract to top condition. Healthy food is broken down more easily and completely for useable nutrients that fuel your dog's top performance and keeps the immune system strong.

ODOR CONTROL

Dramatic odor control in your yard or kennel is a natural by-product of daily feeding with "Edge" treated food. Undigested protein is the leading cause of bad fecal odor. When dogs digest more protein, they not only get healthier, more energetic and stronger - they also have much less odor!

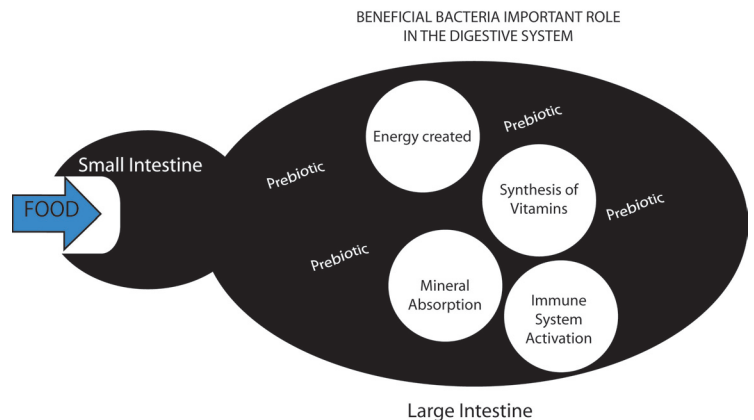

DIARRHEA CONTROL

Simple or stress diarrhea is a common symptom experience by dogs that work hard and travel. The Edge works as a preventative and treatment by getting to the root cause of the problem. Fast 24-36 hour relief.

The Edge for Dogs is a Prebiotic Digestive Science Formula. When added to feed or water, it works to rapidly improve the digestive environment, causing beneficial and necessary gut flora to proliferate. Increased levels of beneficial bacteria in the gut are associated with a number of positive benefits. It is safe and non-toxic yet very powerful in achieving the desired health and energy support.

One of the best things about The Edge is the convenience in adding to your performance dog's diet. Just spray on food or water - no dosing, no difficult schedules. In fact, easily treat food in bulk and never bother with daily treatment. So affordable that you can make sure your high-energy dog gets the benefits every single day.

The Edge is also highly palatable - so delectable that many breeders use the formula as a taste enhancer for weaning pups.
