Corporate Services Announces 2009 Training Schedule for TrakQuip and RTMS Software Applications

Monthly hands-on training classes benefit users of TrakQuip and RTMS software solutions

Baton Rouge, LA – January 9, 2009 – Corporate Services LLC, developers of TrakQuip™ and RTMS, the premier equipment and rental software applications, has announced 2009 training class dates for the TrakQuip and RTMS software solutions.

“Clients who invest in training their employees definitely have a competitive edge,” said Bob Dosser, Corporate Services’ vice president. “A trained employee is an asset to their business.” Knowing this, Corporate Services’ expanded the training class schedule for the first half of 2009 by offering all classes each month, thus giving clients more opportunity to attend and reap the rewards of classroom training.

The TrakQuip and RTMS Essentials courses are each three days and cover a range of topics from set up to advanced functionality. A one-day class, Reporting Dashboard, covers data sources, report design and security. The Reporting Dashboard application is an intuitive report writer used to extract data from either TrakQuip or RTMS to create reports exactly how a client wants to see the information. Classes are taught at Corporate Services’ Baton Rouge facility by a qualified instructor who also has implementation expertise, which provides attendees a well-rounded training experience.

Whether a client has a new employee who needs to be acclimated to the software quickly, or an employee who has been using the software for awhile, the training classes will fulfill their objectives. Class sizes are limited to ensure ample time for attendee’s questions. Numerous attendees have commented on the quality of the training and how much they learned from attending the classes.
