The CMS Solution:

CMS is your total solution for Data Products and Services. We have a national network of operations managers and technicians who specialize in data center cleaning and maintenance.

Why Call CMS?

HP acknowledges that during recent years a growing concern has developed in computer rooms where conductive contaminants (metallic particulate contamination) are formed on the bottom of some raised floor tiles. HP recommendation: "...your site be evaluated for metallic particulate contamination before installation of electronic equipment since metallic contamination can cause permanent or intermittent failures on your electronic equipment."

IBM states in their systems support manual: "Many failures are caused by dirt and fiber particles, which pick up a minute electrical (static) charge and attach to the recording head surfaces...Hardware and application maintenance is critical to keep your systems running at peak performance. Unplanned interruptions shouldn't impact your business."

Why is Airflow so important?

Air stratification efficiency requires a balanced airflow. Uncontrolled subfloor air velocity hurts cooling capacity which causes:

- Inefficient thermal load removal
- Hot spots
- Cool air won't reach equipment up high on racks
- Limits placement of equipment in all areas of the floor and on racks
- Wasted energy
- High air velocity creates harmful airflow patterns that negatively affect air pressures.
