CodePartners Values Relationship with The University of Texas at Dallas

CodePartners founder appointed to advisory board and speaks at technology career forum

Dallas, TX – March 11, 2009 – CodePartners, a software development firm, is pleased to announce the appointment of Brian Terrell, CPA and founder of CodePartners, to The University of Texas at Dallas' Information Systems area's Industry Advisory Board.

The advisory board will provide feedback on program activities and develop strategic partnerships. Brian Terrell was appointed due to his qualifications and experience. Other board members represent companies such as: Citigroup, Ericsson, HCA Health Care, Hitachi Consulting, HP/EDS, Pepsi, Perot Systems, and Sun Microsystems.

The first advisory board meeting was held March 6, 2009.

Additionally, Mr. Terrell served as a panelist at UTD's School of Management's MIS Technology Career Forum on March 10, 2009. The Career Forum is designed to help students develop an improved awareness about career options. Panelists, comprised of high caliber area business leaders, shared their expertise by offering specifics of what is demanded for various career paths. Following the presentations was a question and answer session.

"We see a tremendous value in the relationship we have with UTD," said Brian Terrell. "In addition to the advisory board and career forum participation, we attend the UTD career fairs, which have resulted in full-time employees and interns for our firm. The graduates are well prepared and make valuable contributions to our company."
